

Ryan Trial May Bring Out Names Next Monday Day For Setting Date

An application by Special prosecutor Bernard Tompkins will be made to Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg next Monday to fix a date for trial of the Morgan D. Ryan bribery indictment.

Following the unanimous decision Tuesday by the Appellate Division holding the Ryan bribery indictment valid, Special Assistant Attorney General Bernard Tompkins today contacted Judge Greenberg in New York.

Judge Greenberg informed the special prosecutor that he would be in Kingston on Monday, July 18, at 12:15 p. m. to hear applications in the Ryan case.

At that time, Tompkins will ask the Court to set the "earliest available" date for trial of the matter.

Justice Greenberg will also be available at that time to hear any other motions by either parties.

Much May Come to Light

Should the Ryan trial begin at an early date, it is expected that many facts never before unveiled during the Ulster County probe will be brought to light and that it will be known for the first time just how many town superintendents of highways, present and past, have become involved in kickbacks.

It is known that there have been many more than the three named in the Ryan indictment and that in some instances the statute of limitations for prosecution has elapsed. However, in the conduct of a trial before a jury, facts surrounding circumstances involving those named in the Ryan indictment may also bring into light the names of others who may not have been indicted or even those who are immune from prosecution because of the statute of limitations.

May Seek Books

The whole circumstances surrounding the organization and conduct of the business of Ulster Bituminous, of which Ryan was an officer, may be sought and may have ramifications not presently known. How many superintendents of highways who may be involved is unknown.

Trial of the Ryan indictment will be the first actual trial of "kickback" charges. The Ashby perjury trial, the only trial thus far resulting from the probe, was incidental to the main issue and was not directly connected with kickbacks paid Ulster officials.

Should Judge Greenberg set a date for trial Monday and the Ryan indictment actually come to trial within a short time, this may well be the end of the road for a long legal battle and come close to concluding the Ulster County "kickback" probe.

No Dismissal

Ike Lists Four For Recess Jobs, Others Appointed

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower worked on routine government business at the summer White House today.

He had planned an early round of golf at the Newport Country Club course, but a heavy fog over the Narragansett Bay area ruled that out.

The President gave recess appointments to four men he had nominated for government jobs before Congress recessed.

The Senate quit until Aug. 8 without acting on the nominations. The recess appointments went to:

Harold P. Tyler as assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department civil rights division; Robert A. Bicks as assistant attorney general heading the department's antitrust division; Paul A. Sweeney as a member of the Federal Power Commission; and Charles H. King as a member of the Federal Communications Commission.

Eisenhower also named A. M. Woodruff Jr., dean of the school of government at George Washington University in Washington, to the National Capital Planning Commission and designated him chairman. Woodruff succeeds Harold Bartholomew for the remainder of a term expiring April 30, 1963.

Also appointed to the commission was William C. Foster of Washington, executive vice president of the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. He succeeds the late John A. Remon for the remainder of a term expiring April 30, 1962.

The President reappointed C. McKim Norton to the commission for a six-year term. He is an attorney and chairman of the Borough Planning Board at Princeton, N. J.

The President hoped to get in a round of golf later in the day.

SAYS U. S. FLIERS CONFESSED—Soviet Premier Khrushchev is shown at a press conference in Moscow where he announced that the two captured American Air Force fliers had confessed to making a spy flight against the Soviet Union. Khrushchev accused the U. S. of trying to provoke "a serious military conflict." The U. S. denied the charge and accused Russia of shooting down the plane over the open seas in "a deliberate and reckless attempt to create an international incident." The Russians said the plane was downed over the Barents Sea. (NEA Radio-Telephoto)

Freedom Doubted For 2 Held by Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials hold little hope of winning freedom for two Air Force officers held in the Soviet Union after the shooting down of an American reconnaissance bomber on July 1. The expectation here is that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will put the two men on trial on charges of espionage in order to promote his campaign against American bases in Allied countries.

Rejects Spy Charges

The United States formally demanded release of the two officers Tuesday in a note delivered to the Soviet Foreign Ministry by the embassy in Moscow.

The note rejected Soviet charges that the aircraft was on a spy mission similar to that of the U2 high-altitude jet which went down in the Ural Mountains May 1. It was that incident which preceded the breakdown of the summit conference and the development of bitter cold war conflict between Washington and Moscow.

The RB47 which was accused by the Soviet government of violating its air space on July 1 in the arctic region of the Kola Peninsula actually was never closer than 30 miles to the Soviet coast, the U.S. note declared.

Wanton Attack Evident

"It is therefore evident," the note said, "that pursuant to instructions of the Soviet government, airplanes of the Soviet Air Force wantonly attacked the American airplane over international waters with the admitted loss of that aircraft and of the life of at least one of the members of its crew."

"Two other members of the crew have, according to the Soviet note, been taken into custody without any legal basis and are to be subjected to trial under what is called 'full severity of Soviet law.'"

The United States demanded the release of 1st Lt. John R. McKone, 28, of Tonganoxie, Kan., the navigator, and 1st Lt. F. B. Olmstead, 24, of Elmira, N.Y., the copilot.

The return of the body of the pilot, which the Russians claimed to have recovered from a life raft, also was demanded. He has been identified as Capt. Willard G. Palm, 39, of Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Onteora Area Voting On Budget Till 9 P.M.

Taxpayers of the Onteora School District will elect two members of the board of education and vote on a proposed budget of $1,599,704 in balloting from 2 to 9 p. m. today.

There are two candidates for each of the two races for five-year terms on the board. Mrs. Janet Greene of Woodstock and Robert Adde of Ashokan are running for the post vacated by Albert Fox of the town of Olive.

Philip Gordon of Phoenicia, incumbent president of the board, has opposition for the first time since the district was created. Gordon, an original member of the board, is opposed by George F. McNamara of Shokan.

At the annual meeting of the district last night John James Fairbairn, a retired professional engineer, a resident and taxpayer of the district, raised an objection to an item in the budget for the employment of six art teachers.

In a statement to The Freeman this morning he said: "At the Onteora School Board budget hearing held Tuesday, July 11, the eve of the annual election, a protest was made that the Woodstock Guild's adult education classes, as outlined by a recent press release and to be conducted for the benefit of the influx of summer visitors in Woodstock and in accordance with the proposed appropriations for teachers salaries, namely, $3,348 for six teachers, each conducting 10 three-hour sessions, or providing a total of 180 hours of tuition, could be paid $18.60 per hour.

"It was then stated that class sessions would be extended into the winter and spring seasons, in which event the hourly pay would become $6.20 per hour for each teacher without exceeding the appropriation.

"The normal pay for these services at the present time, as outlined by the Onteora School Board, is at the rate of $3 per hour. As these charges are reflected on every school tax bill in this school district a further tax can be made through state aid. It is to be noted that no available account of the proceedings in any newspaper for the taxpayers who may not be present could be in the hands of a taxpayer until after his vote has been registered pertaining to the school budget."

The proposed budget includes a balance of $35,000, which would reduce the total to $1,564,704. The school district also anticipates from various sources, such as state aid, tuition, etc., amounting to $536,966, which reduces the amount to be raised by taxes to $1,027,738.

However, the district must raise surtaxes (previous indebtedness) of $16,450 for the Town of Hurley and $13,565 for the former Woodstock School District No. 2, a total of $30,015. This amount added to the figure, $1,027,738, raises the total to $1,057,753 to be raised by taxes.

Kennedy Difficulties Are Showing as Ballot Nears

Ike Sets Up Medical Research Health for Peace Measure Signed

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower Tuesday signed into law a bill setting up a new program of international medical research.

The program would be financed largely through U. S.-owned foreign currencies obtained for surplus farm commodities which this country sends abroad.

Some U. S. Grants

These currencies, plus some direct federal grants, would be used for furnishing equipment to hospitals and laboratories abroad, training of foreign scientists in this country and U. S. scientists overseas, translation and distribution services, and many other purposes.

The program would support planning for research into disease and disease prevention on a world wide basis, and encourage international coordination of medical research programs.

The U. S. Public Health Service would have charge of the program, called "Health for Peace" by its supporters.

Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala.), principal sponsor of the bill, said in a statement there is "no doubt that this legislation will produce dividends that are beyond price—dividends that can be expressed only in terms of the hundreds of thousands of lives that can and will be saved in our country and through the world in the years ahead."

Cut-Down Version

The bill finally sent to the President was a sharply cut-down version of Hill's original proposal.

Hill's bill as passed by the Senate would have set up a new institute for international medical research at the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., under the Public Health Service.

The original bill also would have authorized spending 50 million dollars annually for the program.

Appointed Aide To Schnitzer at Local Hospital

JOHN D. WORLEY JR.

John D. Worley Jr., a former Air Force Medical Service Corps officer, has been named assistant administrator of Kingston Hospital, it was announced today by Robert M. Schnitzer, administrator. He assumes his duties here immediately.

A native of Oklahoma City, Worley graduated from Phillips University, Enid, Okla., and has a master's degree in hospital administration from Medical College of Virginia, at Richmond.

He served his residency at Lackland Air Force Base Hospital, San Antonio, Tex., a 1,000-bed hospital, and was assigned there when its new 500-bed wing was placed in service.

For the past two years, he has been assigned as first lieutenant in medical administration at the Plattsburgh Air Force Base Hospital, and was on duty there when the hospital moved into its new, 124-bed building.

Worley spent a total of three years on active duty with the Air Force, and retains a reserve commission as first lieutenant.

His wife, Barbara, will teach mathematics at Kingston High School in the fall, and is currently attending advanced summer session courses at New York State College of Education at Albany. For the present, they will reside at Hillcrest Apartments.

Will Widen Route 28 In Removal of Viaduct

A dangerous traffic bottleneck on the Route 28 side of the Esopus Creek Bridge as well as the 47-year-old Washington Avenue viaduct will be eliminated in the viaduct-bridge project which is now in the stage of preliminary study, a state engineer said today.

Details of the project were discussed Tuesday by Mayor Edwin F. Radel, Kurt G. Rauer, state public works district engineer, stationed at Poughkeepsie and other officials.

Four Lanes Likely

Although nothing definite has been planned, to date, Rauer said, the narrow section of Route 28 will be widened, possibly to a four-lane road with the new bridge of the same width.

On the city side tentative plans call for a 48-foot wide street with sidewalks on both sides.

A section of Route 28 on the west end of the bridge is a narrow two-lane road which gradually widens as it approaches the point where it connects with the four-lane section of Route 28. Most of the more serious accidents during the years of heavy travel over the viaduct and bridge were on the Route 28 side of the bridge.

Won't Stop Traffic

Mayor Radel emphasized that "it is the intention of the department of public works to utilize the existing steel bridge during demolition of the viaduct, and to permit two-way traffic into the downtown shopping area during the project by way of a temporary road."

A temporary pontoon type bridge was built when the Esopus Creek span was replaced some 30 years ago. It connected with a temporary road leading into Taylor Street.

Problems being considered, the mayor said, include those dealing with proper alignment of the new roadway and consideration of how much effect it will have upon existing structures.

No Costs Estimated Yet

The project will be a phase of the city's arterial route system. State and federal governments share the cost of construction and the city and state will share equal costs for purchase of Rights-of-way. Cost of removing the viaduct was estimated last year at $75,000. No estimates have been made, to date, on costs of replacing the bridge and widening the Route 28 approach.

Rauer told The Freeman June 16

that preliminary studies had been made. "We have made preliminary studies and we hope to be able to do something as far as actual planning is concerned later this year," he said. He met Tuesday at 2 p. m., with the mayor, City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan and John Meara, resident engineer of the state public works department.

Spur to Help

Much of the heavy travel over the viaduct and bridge will be eliminated when the arterial route spur opens to traffic July 25. Both are expected to be used considerably, however, in travel to and from downtown areas.

A Public Service Commission report in July, 1955, noted that the roadways of the viaduct and bridge were 20 feet wide, and that the highway pavement on the Route 28 side widens from the bridge to 40 feet in a distance of 524 feet.

A PSC finding, ordering removal of the viaduct was reported last Jan. 12.

Belgium's Take Over Leopoldville Field

By LYNN HEINZERLING
LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP)—Belgian parachutists cleared Leopoldville airport of Congolese soldiers in less than an hour today in a brisk exchange of gunfire and hand grenades. One Congolese soldier was killed and one wounded. Three Belgian civilians were wounded.

Gen. Geysens, commanding the Belgian forces in Leopoldville, his face white with anger, said he was taking over the airport.

Troops of the Force Publique—Congolese army—perhaps 200 of them, had moved into the airport earlier. They did not interfere with the movements of refugees. But when a Belgian military plane landed with two wounded soldiers they refused to let Belgians take charge of them. Instead they put them under guard in the airport dispensary.

Congolese were guarding some 200 white refugees. As rifle shots sounded, women and children ran screaming to the corners of a lounge room. A baggage clerk thoughtfully placed a line of suitcases around a group.

Belgian parachutists burst through the front doors and three Congolese soldiers headed for the staircase. They fired their rifles wildly.

The parachutists cornered several Congolese soldiers on the roof and there was an exchange of gunfire in which one Congolese soldier was killed.

There were frequent bursts of gunfire.

Congolese soldiers scattered in all directions.

Paratroopers rounded up about 50 members of the Force Publique. They refused to give up their arms at first but when a Belgian officer began counting they quickly handed them over.

Standing in front of the airport, the AP correspondent could see Congolese soldiers heading in panic across the airfield to empty spaces beyond.

President Joseph Kasavubu and Prime Minister Patrice Lumumba of the Congo Republic sent a telegram to the United Nations charging that a Congo government request for aid by an international force is a "Belgian colonialist plot." The request was sent while they were out of town, they said.

Lumumba told Belgian government representatives here to "get your Belgian troops back to their bases within two hours." But a Belgian spokesman said Belgium does not intend withdrawing its paratroopers, who have restored order in Elisabethville and to some extent in Luluabourg. They also are trying to safeguard the valuable port installation at Matadi.

The Congo situation is so desperate that Belgium intends to continue using troops to prevent loss of white lives and to restore

Saugerties Adopts $1,661,174 School Budget; Rate Is $72.51

Saugerties Central School District budget of $1,661,174.31 resulting in a basic tax rate of $72.50 per $1,000 on assessed valuation was adopted 187 to 120 by district taxpayers at the annual meeting Tuesday night in Main Street School.

Tax rates in former District No. 10 in the village and Glasco are slightly higher due to bonded indebtedness incurred prior to centralization. The new District 10 rate will be $73.35 and Glasco, $77.74 based on $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Rates for Town of Ulster residents within Saugerties Central District will be $71.31, and for Town of Woodstock residents in the district, $90.61.

Delaware Swings 11 To Johnson

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Democrats name their presidential candidate today with Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts riding a crest his backers believe will give him a first-ballot victory.

A restive, noisy, and generally disorderly convention which exploded with an ovation for Adlai E. Stevenson left the Massachusetts senator's major opponents clinging to the cliffs of hope that Kennedy's tidal wave will recede quickly if it doesn't engulf them at the start.

Precarious Handhold

But they had only a precarious handhold. This was demonstrated by the fact that Kennedy had what was regarded as solid commitments of delegate votes less than 20 short of the 761 needed for the nomination. Nobody ever came that close in the past and then lost out.

This, moreover, was a convention thirsty for the wine of November victory. As such it roared its approval Tuesday night of a platform into which had been nailed the toughest civil rights plank the party ever adopted.

Southerners interested in making a record for the home voters tried unsuccessfully to kill this declaration. But not a Dixie delegate lifted a foot to walk out of the hall, as many of them have done in the past.

The most patent explanation of this was that they didn't want to upset by a bold, whatever chance Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas might have to get the top nomination.

Rayburn Confident

Despite Kennedy's formidable lead, campaign strategists for his opponents one by one ticked off their determination to place their favorites' names in nomination.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn said he will offer Johnson's name with confidence the Senate Democratic leader will win out in the end.

Gov. James T. Blair Jr. of Missouri said he is presenting his fellow Missourian, Sen. Stuart Symington, to the convention with the belief that Kennedy is 70 to 80 votes short of the 761 needed for the nomination.

Blair did not discount the possibility of a Kennedy cruncher, even on the second ballot. But he shook off as premature suggestions that Symington might agree to take second place on the ticket.

Emphatic About Adlai

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma made it emphatic that Stevenson's name will be put on the ballot for the countdown which would be reached after time-restricted nominating speeches and the usual hoopla of banner-waving

Young Swimmer Dies of Electric Shock From Pool

MARLBORO, N. Y. (AP)—Michael Consoli, 12, received a fatal electric shock Tuesday night in the family swimming pool.

Someone turned on the underwater lights as he was in the water and holding an iron ladder.

An electrician said later that worn wiring apparently was the cause of the 1,500-volt charge in the water.

Emergency squads of Marlboro firemen and St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, worked on the boy but he never recovered consciousness.

Michael screamed when the shock hit him. A playmate who was in the pool with him, Manuel Lopergola, 10, swam to help Michael who was still grasping the ladder. Someone had turned off the lights when Michael screamed, and Manuel received only a slight shock when he touched Michael.

Then Collins called for a vote on adopting the entire platform. He received almost as many noes as ayes. In fact, some listeners on the platform thought there was more volume to the noes.

Catechists Greet Ruling

But Collins didn't hesitate. He announced that the platform had been adopted. Cheers and catechists greeted his ruling.

The platform fired a volley of verbal missiles at President Eisenhower's administration and promised to bolster America's military, political, economic and moral strength.

One poke at the GOP went this way: "We Democrats believe that our economy can and must grow at an average rate of 5 per cent annually, almost twice as fast as our average annual rate since 1953. We pledge ourselves to policies that will achieve this goal without inflation."

The civil rights plank called for federal injunction powers to enforce racial equality in voting, education and employment, and an end to federal aid to segregated housing projects.

It said 1963, the 100th anniversary of the Emancipation Proclamation, should be a "holiday from history."

But the civil rights debate, although less bitter than previous ones in Democratic history, enlivened the session in the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

After an hour of wrangling, Gov. Leroy Collins, the convention chairman, called for a vote on a Southern proposal to eliminate the civil rights plank. Collins listened to the ayes and noes and decided that the South had failed.

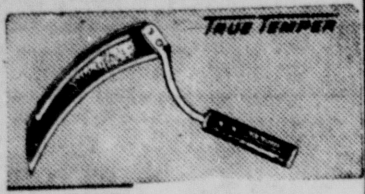

Then Collins called for a vote on adopting the entire platform. He received almost as many noes as ayes. In fact, some listeners on the platform thought there was more volume to the noes.

Catechists Greet Ruling

But Collins didn't hesitate. He announced that the platform had been adopted. Cheers and catechists greeted his ruling.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The grocery customer—and who isn't?—finds His and Her store ever fancier these days and often more efficient.

Some of the supermarkets may lull you and accompanying small fry with piped in music or entice you with an ever wider variety of food products—and nonfood items.

Problems Building Up

But while the food chains go on spreading and copping an impressive share of total grocery sales, behind their suave fronts are increasing problems that the music—or even the cash register jingle—doesn't lull.

The grocery chains boast that in the 1950s they expanded faster than any other form of retail trade. But with that growth they face today a squeeze on profits.

Example: the largest chain (A&P) reports earnings in its latest quarter were off 4.5 per cent from the spring weeks of 1959 and its total net income last year was 1 per cent of sales volume. Safeway and National Tea also report profits this year lower than a year ago.

Other problems common to the lengthening chains are the threat of saturation, the debates over how big a supermarket can profitably be, what else besides food it should sell, and how to increase mechanization and processing without antagonizing the women shoppers who like to pinch and look closely at what they're buying.

Smaller Part for Food

Another worry is that while your income tends to increase, you are spending a smaller part of it on food than you used to, in spite of the rise in food prices over the years.

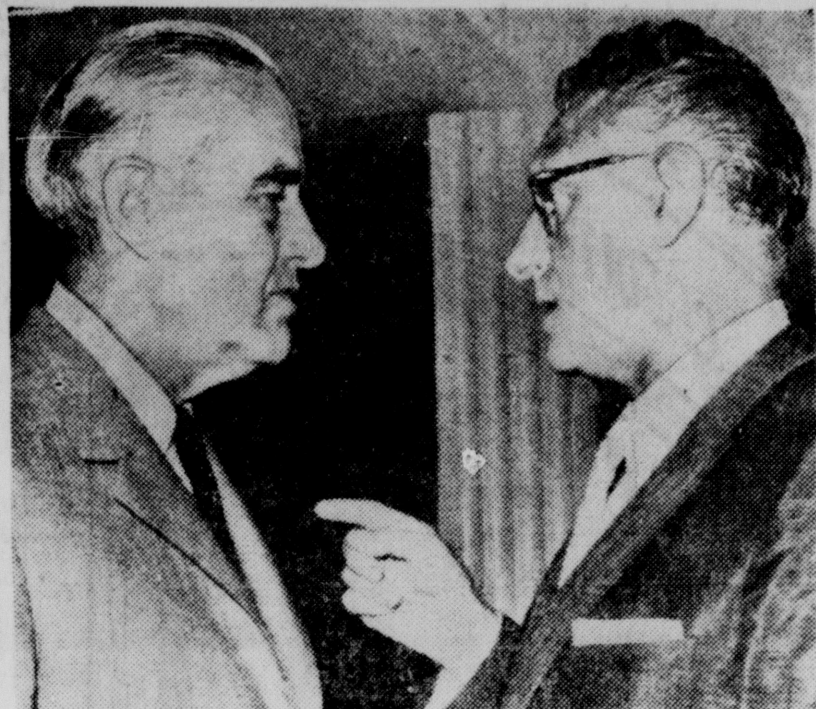

Food's share of the basic standard of living was 24.3 per cent in 1950 and 23.1 per cent in 1959. It's share may shrink a bit more this year, in spite of the Grocery Manufacturers of America's prediction that 1960 will see another record spending for food.

In 1959 food chain store sales rose 5 per cent over 1958 to a record 19½ billion dollars, or 39 per cent of total grocery store sales. But profit margins of all but one of the 10 largest chains were under 2 per cent of sales.

Some food chain battles, like those over trading stamps and private labels vs. national brands, seem to be in the truce stage at the moment.

While some food chains still fight trading stamps, their wide acceptance is hailed by executives of the Trading Stamp Institute of America at its annual meeting in Atlantic City this week.

They report that last year saw a 10 per cent increase in the number of savers (estimated at 39,437,000 families) and a five per cent growth in the number of food chains and supermarkets using them.

Reactions to Cancel Each Other: Kennedy

Religious Issue Hangs Over L. A. Convention

By RELMAN MOREN

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The issue raised by Sen. John F. Kennedy's religion hung over the Democratic convention today as the moment neared for balloting on a presidential candidate.

Kennedy is a Roman Catholic. That will both help him and hurt him, as he himself analyzes it. He says the two reactions will cancel each other. But the issue is there.

Telegrams urging delegates not to vote for him, because of his religion, have reached several state delegations.

Scientist to Get Medal for Vital Antiradar Design

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A brilliant scientist today receives one of the nation's highest honors for an antiradar invention so vital that it is still classified as a top secret.

Rear Adm. Walter F. Rodee, commander of 11th Naval Dist. air bases, will give Dr. Otto Halpern a special Defense Department medal in ceremonies at the University of California at Los Angeles.

The fact that Dr. Halpern had to fight for 18 years for his right to the honor is of no significance to him today.

"Wouldn't it be ungracious of me to complain," he said in an interview Tuesday, "when the Defense Department is doing everything it can now to make up for those bitter years?"

A year ago Dr. Halpern was awarded $340,000 by the Defense Department in settlement of his 18-year court battle for recognition as inventor of a material that helped U.S. planes and ships evade enemy radar in World War II and the Korean conflict.

A theoretical physicist, he developed his idea while working at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1941, and it was put to work by the Navy.

When he tried to patent his invention, the government ruled that granting a patent would make his secret processes public.

Catholic for president or vice president.

Several speakers have alluded publicly to Kennedy's religion.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who favors Adlai E. Stevenson for the nomination, told a news conference that although the religious issue has played no important part in the political picture so far, she did not know whether this would still be the case going into November, the election month.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, himself a candidate for the nomination, said Tuesday: "We proved in the West Virginia primary that Protestants will vote for a Catholic. Now we want some of the Catholic states to prove they'll vote for a Protestant."

But Johnson also said: "Our party is not going to veto a man or vote for a man because of his religion."

In a speech before the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington last April 21, Kennedy referred to the issue.

Against Religious Vote

"Nor am I appealing, as is too often claimed, to a so-called Catholic vote," he said. "Even if such a vote exists—which I doubt—I want to make one thing clear again: I want no votes solely on account of my religion. Any voter, Catholic or otherwise, who feels another candidate would be a superior president should support that candidate. I do not want any vote cast for me for such illogical and irrelevant reasons."

Most of the opposition to Kennedy, on religious grounds, appeared to be coming from Southern states.

Former Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama issued a statement saying: "Let's face the facts. The paramount issue of segregation and integration is segregation and integration of church and state."

Dr. L. A. Mosely, an Alabama delegate, said he had received a telegram which said, "If you vote for Kennedy, you can come back to Uniontown (his home) but only long enough to pack your bags."

Better Than Before

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The antique French clock on the mantel at State Assemblyman Frank Luckel's home didn't run. It was just a showpiece. Then it was stolen and, when police recovered it, it was running.

Issues, Personality Now Facing Demos, Also Will Confront Voters at Polls

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 1960 Democratic convention is something less than emotional—in fact, dull so far—because more than just enthusiasm for an individual is involved.

The delegates' problem is a mixture of issues and individuals, since none of the would-be Democratic presidential candidates is an overwhelming personality.

And when the campaign begins—with Vice President Richard M. Nixon almost certain to be the Republican candidate—the voters will have to wrestle with the same twin problem of issues and personality.

Not Case in 1956

This was not the case, for instance, in 1956 when Adlai E. Stevenson went into far more details on issues and where he stood than President Eisenhower, only to see the immensely popular Eisenhower swamp him.

The hopeful senators from whom the Democratic convention had to choose today—Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Stuart Symington of Missouri—have had fairly liberal voting records.

The distinction between them on the issues has been, in a broad sense, a distinction on fine points. To put it another way, on the issues the convention had little to choose, although Northern voting Negroes and organized labor made the fine distinctions and chose Kennedy over Johnson.

Symington has had an extremely liberal voting record, yet he is as of now a poor third. Therefore, something more than just issues alone have to be factors in whatever the convention does.

Other Factors

It's at this point the personality problem enters, plus some other factors.

Kennedy spent far more time in 1960 trying to line up delegates for today—by visiting their states, seeking them out, running in their primaries—than did Johnson or Symington. They ran in no primaries.

Symington handicapped himself in other ways. He didn't say he was a candidate until late, didn't get around enough, and concentrated so much on national defense that he sacrificed appeal to various other group interests, even though his interests are far wider than just defense.

Johnson probably outsmarted himself—although extraordinarily careful about details—in relying on supporters than Kennedy did in rounding up delegates in the months preceding the convention. Kennedy did a lot of it first hand.

Johnson may have felt his work as majority leader in the Senate would make up for this—particularly as the Senate rolled up a legislative record—but it hasn't so far. And the Senate record has been very meager.

In addition to any leg work they did in rounding up delegates, the men had to concern themselves with the problem of their personality.

Each Faced Task

Each had the task of trying to make himself appear the one best fitted to cope with the tense and unpredictable issues facing the country in the next four years.

Fishermen Report Seeing Strange Animal

MANCHESTER, Mass. (AP)—Two fishermen, Harry and Warren Heath, brothers, say they saw a strange water animal "about 14 to 16 feet long, with a black and white head" off Manchester Tuesday.

The Heaths said the creature surfaced about 30 feet away as they hauled in lobster traps near Egg Rock. Harry said it had two protuberant eyes and a black back that "looked like the shallow keel of an overturned whaleboat." After a few minutes, it submerged, the brothers said.

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower, a round of business conferences behind him, has only golf on his announced agenda for today.

The President arranged for an early round at the Newport Country Club course close by the summer White House at Ft. Adams, part of the Newport Naval Base.

BOY SCOUT JAMBOREE

Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, which is responsible for scouting in Ulster and Greene Counties, will be represented by 70 Scouts and leaders at the fifth national jamboree of the Boys Scouts of America at Colorado Springs, Colorado July 22 to 28.

With 55,600 participants, it will be the largest encampment of youth in the world and we are proud that we will be represented.

One of the principal purposes of the national jamboree is to bring to boys and leaders a clearer understanding of and a deeper sense of commitment to the ideals of scouting. Another purpose is to show America and the world the atmosphere of a huge youth gathering as conducted by a great youth movement in a free society.

The jamboree is designed to help boys know and love America through learning more about the principles and history of our democracy. At their 2,000 acre camp on the Reverse J. Diamond Ranch, opposite the Air Force Academy they will be living and sharing with boys from all parts of the nation and with some 425 other Scouts and leaders from 38 nations around the world, who will be their guests. The Scouts also will see America en route to and from the jamboree.

This is truly a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity as a boy in scouting usually has but one chance to take part in a big jamboree.

We wish the local jamboree group a very happy time and a most glorious experience. We know they will bring great credit to themselves and the Council. We salute the parents of these Scouts for their part in making their sons' participation possible.

MILITARY BALLOT

Over 225,000 young men and women of the State of New York, who are serving in the armed forces of our country, have the right to vote by military ballot in this year's presidential election.

To obtain a military ballot, a serviceman may file an application or he may write a letter giving his full name and rank, his home residence address and his military address. Applications or letters must be subscribed by the serviceman but need not be sworn to nor attested.

The spouse, parent or child of a serviceman who resides in the same election district as the serviceman and who accompanies him may also vote a military ballot. The application for the military ballot for such person is the same as that used by the serviceman.

The Division for Servicemen's Voting has post card applications available to any person or organization requesting them.

The application or letters for a military ballot must be mailed to the Secretary of State, Division for Servicemen's Voting, 164 State Street, Albany 1, N. Y. They must be received by October 27.

ROOTS OF SENTIMENT

Traffic was heavy on flagpoles at the national capitol in Washington on Independence Day. Capitol policemen raised 50-star flags above the Senate chamber and the House wing for the first time, but that was only the beginning. Thousands of other 50-star flags, destined to be sent to constituents of members of Congress, were raised and lowered on temporary capitol poles in the course of the day.

An uninvolved spectator—say that ubiquitous visitor from Mars—might find this a bit silly. He would be mistaken. For this sentimental attachment to the flag has deep roots. These roots are nourished by blood and dreams—the blood of those who have died in the cause of liberty, the dreams that have shaped freedom and will shape it for the years ahead. Those flags zipped up and down the flagpoles in Washington are symbols that honor a great past and look to a greater future.

'These Days'

By GEORGE B. SOKOLSKY
THE SUGAR QUOTA

The first effective step, the 1960 Sugar Act, has been taken by Congress against Castro's Cuba. The step is late—surely a year late—but it is now law. Castro is already squealing like a stuck pig.

Despite Castro's intimate relationship with Soviet Russia, Cuba's economy depended upon two main factors—the United States purchase of the Cuban sugar crop at a price that was over two cents above the world price and American tourism. The sugar quota and price were a direct subsidy, this country taking from Cuba a quota which for 1960 amounted to 3,119,655 tons. This was 200,000 tons more than for 1959. How any such increase in the quota could be justified for 1960 is beyond belief.

Actually Cuba supplied more sugar than continental American cane or beet growers. In other words, the United States increased its subsidy to Castro while Castro was seizing American property and conducting an anti-American campaign throughout Latin America.

The passage of the Sugar Act, which is definitely and overtly designed against Castro, is the first salutary step that our government has taken against Castro. The policy of the State Department has been to do nothing about Cuba, lest Soviet Russia take retaliatory steps in Turkey and Iran. It is this negative policy, pursued since the death of John Foster Dulles, which has been so costly in Paris and Tokyo and Havana. It is a policy of response to Russia's initiative.

The Cuban situation gives ample evidence that it is now taking the initiative in Latin America. Fidel Castro has not only established a People's Republic—the first stage of a Communist revolution—but as is usual in such enterprises, Soviet personnel, including Red Chinese, have come to Cuba in large numbers to assist in the establishment of the new administration. Anastas Mikoyan came to Cuba to formalize arrangements and reciprocal visits are being prepared between Khrushchev and Castro.

The State Department failed to meet these events and continued to subsidize the Castro regime through the sugar bounty. True, the quotas are set by Congress but it was the duty of the State Department to call attention to the dangers of the subsidy and to issue a statement to the public which could not be misunderstood.

There is no sugar shortage. Cuba's sugar will not be missed. It is possible that Soviet Russia may come to the aid of Cuba but if Castro cannot get a better deal out of Russia on sugar than he got on oil, it will not be long before the economic pinch in Cuba will be sorely felt.

If Americans assume that such an economic pinch will seriously influence Castro's policies, they are mistaken. Communists are never affected by the sufferings of their people. When Stalin had heavy machinery, he exported butter so that the Ukrainian peasants had none. The export of butter gave him the foreign exchange he needed to buy the machinery. It will be no different in Cuba. The people will be fed the pabulum of hate-speeches and wild promises for the future which they will believe, because hungry people like to hate. They like to blame someone besides themselves for their misfortunes. They will blame the United States.

On the other hand, to Soviet Russia, Cuba is a pawn on a very wide chessboard. As it stands now, Cuba is a source of great embarrassment to the United States and it will remain such no matter who is elected President. Soviet Russia is playing the Cuban pawn to see what move we will make. Thus far, we have made no move. Shocked by the collapse of the Summit Conference of Paris, by the anti-Eisenhower riots in Tokyo, involved in the confusions of a national election, we have not moved significantly.

Meanwhile, Khrushchev has been having his ideological problems with Red China over the nature of his orthodoxy. The central accusation against Khrushchev by Red China is that Khrushchev is pro-American! By that is meant that he does not believe that war is essential to destroy imperialism. By imperialism is meant American capitalism.

Much can happen during the next year that could leave Cuba without a friend. Even if, perchance, Adlai Stevenson were to be Secretary of State, he could not make a deal with Soviet Russia that would tolerate Russia's advantage in Cuba.

Horse Sense Should Curb 'Horsing' in the Water

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here are suggestions about water sports, some of which have been supplied in the public interest by the Hearing Aid Industry Conference:

Swim only in public facilities that are supervised and approved by local health agencies. Contaminated waters breed serious infections such as typhoid and the dysenteries.

Avoid public or private pools that are used by persons who are not required to shower immediately before entering the water in their swim suits.

Suspect pools that do not provide adequate toilet facilities. Epidemics of a type of "pink-eye" frequently result from viruses introduced through human contamination.

If you swim in a large body of water you'll find the water no cooler or more refreshing far from the shore than it is near the beach or a float.

Davy Jones's locker is an uncomfortable place in which to bring your holiday to an end.

When swimming, especially in polluted waters, inhale when your head is to the side, well out of water. Exhale when your head is down in the water. If you inhale water, don't force infected material into your sinuses and ears. Just lean forward and let gravity work while you gently breathe through one nostril at a time.

If you ears feel stuffy after your swim, don't go poking them. You may shove something in.

And don't hop around on one foot to dislodge fluid. Just lie down, first on one side and then the other. If this doesn't release the fluid, gently insert the tip of a clean towel in ear canal.

If you water-ski, physicians advise you to:

Learn how to handle the tow rope properly on take-off.

Wear bathing cap and ear plugs to prevent damage to your hearing.

Insist on the presence, in the tow boat, of some person other than the pilot who can watch you at all times.

Wear a lightweight lifebelt to buoy you up when you're dumped.

And finally, if you insist on going skin diving in shark-infested waters, get in touch with the Shark Research Panel of the American Institute of Biological Sciences in the Office of Naval Research, Washington, D. D. They'll supply you with a 6-oz packet of a repellent dye that's quite effective unless the sharks are in a "feeding frenzy."

If you suffer any kind of a wound, on land or water, apply tight pressure for at least 10 minutes or until bleeding is completely stopped. Don't keep peeking and wiping. Wait until a clot forms. If the wound remains open, flush it with running water. Don't douse it with iodine or any other antiseptic. You'll kill very few bugs and you may get a chemical burn.

And the toughest job of all, I've left for last. Start for home so as to arrive before dark. You'll avoid road delays and the accident peak at sunset. You won't return to work the next morning feeling as if you'd been trampled by wild elephants.

Long Way Back

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Washington Correspondent

LOS ANGELES — (NEA)—With Massachusetts Sen. John F. Kennedy apparently the unstoppable presidential candidate at the Democratic convention, the name of Missouri Sen. Stuart Symington is being talked up here as the vice presidential running mate.

This is said to make political sense though it may never happen. Symington is from a border state, which makes him less objectionable to Southerners. Until Texas Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson became openly ambitious to be president, Symington was the choice of many Southern congressmen.

Symington has the best record with labor union and civil rights organizations. He has a good farm program of his own that makes him acceptable to the Midwest. A Kennedy-Symington ticket might appeal to business circles that don't fully trust other Democrats. Symington has a good record as a successful businessman and government administrator.

At the convention opening, Symington had the third largest bloc of delegates. As a presidential candidate he is known better nationally than the other Democratic senators and governors who have been mentioned for vice president.

Objections to Symington include the fact that he is 59 to Kennedy's 43. Both men are millionaires. Kennedy has never worked closely with Symington and vice versa, but politics have made stranger bedfellows. Both are Ivy League—Kennedy, Harvard; Symington, Yale.

Symington has repeatedly said he can serve the country better as senator than as vice president. But that is not an irrevocable commitment in politics. He could yield gratefully to sweet persuasions that he would help the party most by running for Vice.

A Kennedy-Symington ticket might unite the party at a time when it could be torn apart.

If Symington is not the candidate, and if the Democratic platform charts extreme policies on civil rights and labor-backed programs, the vice presidential candidate will have to be a Northern liberal. And that would alienate the South.

Oscar Chapman, chairman of the Citizens' Committee for Johnson, discounts the possibility of a Dixiecrat revolt. Chapman also regards the voice of a vice presidential candidate as relatively unimportant. The main point is to get someone who won't hurt the ticket.

The possibility of Johnson for president, Kennedy for vice president—or the other way around—has been suggested to unite the party. They are the two strongest candidates, but neither combination is considered politically realistic.

Senator Johnson has said he will support the ticket regardless of the convention outcome. But if he does not work as hard in the coming special session of Congress to give the party as good a record on which to run as he would if he should be the presidential candidate, the campaign will be sabotaged.

'Alarming' Sections Found In Democratic Platform

By DAVID LAWRENCE

LOS ANGELES—It would require a dictator in the White House to fulfill some of the provisions of the platform recommended to the Democratic National Convention by a majority of its platform committee.

Not only does the platform impose on the President-to-be the task of reversing the national "mood," whatever this is, but it proposes, in effect, that employment practices and social customs be changed irrespective of the legal rights of private citizens.

"We have drifted," says the platform, "into a national mood that accepts payola and quiz scandals, tax evasion and false expense accounts, soaring crime rates, influence-peddling in high government circles, and the exploitation of sadistic violence as popular entertainment. For eight long critical years our present national leadership has made no effective effort to reverse this mood."

Just how any administration can set about to change the national mood in every field, from entertainment to crime rates, is a little hard to understand. But platforms are noted for their promises of Utopia.

Most Alarming Section

The most alarming section, however, of the platform—and one which could cost the Democrats plenty of electoral votes in the South and perhaps in the North—is a provision which practically tells employers they must adopt some system of equality of race, religion and color in choosing their employees.

It also tells the private schools they, too, must not discriminate in matters of race or religion or color. Maybe there will be no more exclusively white social clubs in the North if the Democratic platform means what it says and if laws are to be passed to remove all forms of discrimination from the platform plank on this reads in part as follows:

"The time has come to assure equal access for all Americans to all areas of community life, including voting booths, schools, jobs, housing and public facilities."

The clause "equal access to all areas of community life" is the most sweeping ever proposed in a political platform. There are no exceptions, nor is the word "schools" qualified by the word "public."

It is not clear yet how the platform writers came to the conclusion that the Constitution gives Congress the right to pass a law telling a private employer whom he may employ, especially when he isn't engaged in any government contract work. Yet the platform plank says: "The new Democratic administration will support Federal legislation establishing a fair employment practices commission effectively to secure for everyone the right to equal opportunity for employment."

Does that mean that, unless an equal number of Negroes and whites are employed or if someone thinks he should have a job for which he isn't really qualified, the employer can be hauled before a commission and made to prove that no discriminatory motive is behind his hiring practices? Does it mean that there must be a proportionately equal number of Protestants, Catholics and Jews in every plant or business establishment in order to fulfill the requirements of "equal access"?

It is clear from the way the platform is written that the authors are not talking only of Federal services or work on government contracts. This latter field is separately provided for, and there is, in addition, a broadly phrased paragraph which says:

"A new Democratic administration will broaden the scope and strengthen the powers of the present (Civil Rights) commission and make it permanent. Its functions will be to provide assistance to communities, industries, or individuals in the implementation of constitutional rights in education, housing, employment, transportation and the administration of justice."

There are emphatic words in many American cities where racial discrimination prevails. The United States Supreme Court has said the Federal and state authorities have no power to enforce "integration" against the wishes of private-property owners. This could become a big issue in the coming campaign.

Southern Repudiation

Already the Southern leaders have announced openly that they repudiate the platform. They say in a public statement: "These provisions do not propose to be bound by them, and respectfully request that the statement of repudiation be entered upon the minutes of the convention and read to the convention upon the presentation of the platform."

The desire of the platform-makers to win the votes of Negro and other minority groups will create new conflicts with other groups which have hitherto supported the Democratic ticket. Sen. Kennedy, as the party nominee, would be on the spot if asked whether he supports wholeheartedly the provisions of the platform quoted above. If he does, it could cost him the South and some northern states as well. It may be doubted whether the Republican platform will invade the field of private rights as the Democratic platform has done. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

Big Changes Take Place At Red Hook Hotel

The most radical changes in over a century soon will be completed at the Red Hook Hotel.

The old Dutchess County hotel, a survivor of the days when stage coaches rumbled past its door on the Albany Post Road, will open a completely modern glass-enclosed grill, where barbecuing, broiling, grilling and the preparation of Italian dishes will be visible both to travelers on Route 9 and diners in the hotel.

As an added feature, proprietor Dan Sorin will install a live lobster tank and a glass-fronted refrigerator showcase so that customers can, if they wish, select their own lobster or favorite cut of prime meat before it is prepared.

To accomplish this, Mr. Sorin is removing an entire half of the front porch, which faces on U. S. Route 9. The old wooden railings are being replaced with a brick wall about three feet high. Above this, plate glass windows encased in stainless steel will be installed.

Stainless steel charcoal grills, broilers and barbecue ovens will be included in the equipment, Mr. Sorin said.

All dishwashing and similar operations will be carried on in the hotel's main kitchen, at the rear of the building. Members of the kitchen staff will reach the grill area by means of a cellar passageway, so as not to disturb diners.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath." Get PASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Campaign Starts To Raise Funds For Aid to Blind

The annual campaign of the Sight and Blind Aid Society started last week with the mailing of seals to residents of the Kingston area. In launching the drive, which uses the familiar slogan, "Be Thankful You Can See—Be Generous," President Richard Kalish of the Kingston Lions Club, the drive's sponsoring organization, said the sale is the only source of funds for the extensive sight and blind program of the local club.

Each envelope mailed contains two sheets of seals for "as much as you wish to contribute," Kalish said.

The money received from last year's campaign, Kalish said, was used to:

1. Provide assistance and rehabilitation to the sightless and near sightless.
2. Provide talking books.
3. Provide Braille reading material.
4. Provide Newsweek talking records at our library.
5. Provide white canes for the safety of the blind.
6. Provide medical care and professional help to blind.
7. Sponsor the Kingston Eye Bank; promote and participate in cornea transplants.
8. Sponsor a Christmas party and distribute gifts to the blind.
9. Offer eye examinations and provide glasses for school children of Kingston when requested by the school nurse.
10. Lend a "helping hand" when needed.

"You may be assured," Kalish said, "that your donation will be used to finance the work of the sight conservation and blind committee and that all funds will be used locally to benefit our own Kingston area folks."

Carroll Has Maps For 11th Ward To See on Housing

Alderman Joseph J. Carroll Jr., (R) 11th Ward, today revealed neighborhood opposition to a proposed housing development in the Linderman Avenue-Burgenin Street area.

Several residents of the area have expressed opposition, he said, and unless more important sentiment is expressed in behalf of the project, if it were up to a vote at this time he would be obliged to oppose it.

The alderman has maps of the project area and planned development at his home he said, and all persons interested are asked to see them there. The project which would consist of eight buildings would provide 384 apartments. It is planned by Income Fund Enterprises Corp., of New York which is to give city officials details in the near future.

Sheriff Checking Overtaken Car, No Injuries Noted

The Ulster County sheriff's office was still investigating today the facts involved in the discovery of a car lying on its roof in a field alongside the Hurley Mountain road.

The sheriff's office received a report at 1:40 a. m. that a 1957 passenger vehicle was overturned along the road.

Deputy Sheriffs James Marano and Charles Dulca went to the scene to investigate.

It was ascertained that the car is registered in the name of George R. Nurnich Jr., of Lomontville, the sheriff's office reported.

A check of local hospitals disclosed that no one had been admitted as the result of a vehicular mishap. The case is still under investigation.

Arrest Florida Man for Having Guns, No Permits

A Florida man was arrested Tuesday evening on the Thruway on a charge of illegal possession of firearms and committed to the Ulster County jail to await action of the grand jury.

Thruway Norman Kilfoyle of the Thruway police arrested Jerry Edwin VanWinkle, 21, of Miami, during a routine check.

VanWinkle was stopped about four miles north of the Kingston interchange as he was proceeding south. He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Robert Ferrigan of the town of Kingston.

Thruway police said he had a .38 caliber Smith and Wesson revolver and a .38 caliber Colt in his car.

Meters Charging 10 Cents Installed

Police Chief Robert F. Murphy today issued a reminder that some of the new parking meter faces providing for a higher parking rate are being installed and advised that "all persons should read the instructions on the meter carefully before depositing money."

The new meters allow 30 minutes of parking for a nickel. The second must be deposited for an hour's parking. The new meters are now on Wall Street from Main to North Front, a section of the latter, John Street from Green to Fair, and the latter from North Front to Main.

The chief also noted that the new meters "will not take pennies. You must deposit at least one nickel to park."

Czechs Free Yank

GOEPFINGEN, Germany (AP)—A California soldier has been returned to the U. S. Army after spending two years in Communist Czechoslovakia, serving a prison term.

The Army said the Czechs handed over Pfc. Andrew A. Bellichard, 21, of San Jose, at the border town of Weidau on July 7.

Announcement of his release was delayed until his mother, Mrs. Lisette Czerwinski of San Jose, Calif., was notified and a preliminary investigation was made. The Army said further investigation of his disappearance is now under way.

Bellichard was standing guard along the Czech border when he disappeared.

Financial Transactions

(Morgan Davis & Co.)

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pushed slightly higher early this afternoon as prices improved somewhat after a weak opening.

Changes in both directions were fractional for the most part, however, and volume proceeded at a moderate pace. Aircraft and missile stocks continued to press ahead in response to the tense international situation and steels also firmed.

The market seemed to be in a cautious mood pending further developments in news about the plane shot down by Russia, the Democratic convention and The Congo. A number of early losers turned into small gainers.

Chief beneficiaries of the strength among defense related stocks were United Aircraft and Thiokol, each up better than a point, and Boeing up about a point. Martin held a small advance after losing some of its early gain.

U. S. Steel also was ahead around 1 and Bethlehem up a fraction. Motors and utilities were fractionally higher, while most rails also edged ahead. Metals turned mixed.

Airlines again were strong. Oils were firm for the most part. Raytheon climbed about a point in an otherwise quiet electronic section.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was up 0.20 at 219.90 with industrials up 0.50, rails up 0.10 and utilities up 0.10.

Government bonds headed upward. Corporates were irregular.

Convention Timetable

The third session of the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles, Calif., will be called to order by Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida, permanent chairman, at 3 p. m. today (6 p. m. New York Time).

Following is the schedule:

Invocation, Dr. Max Nussbaum, rabbi, Temple Israel of Hollywood.

The National Anthem by Margaret Blum of the San Francisco Opera Company.

Roll call of the states for nominations for President.

Balloting on the nominees. Benediction by the Rev. Forrest C. Weir, executive director of the Church Federation of Los Angeles.

The National Anthem.

Kennedy . . .

supporters marching and chanting about the hall.

There were some other signs Kennedy was encountering difficulties.

Uses Unit Rule

Delaware, on which some Kennedy backers had been counting, caucused today and threw its 11 first-ballot votes to Johnson.

In the caucus, 12 of the half-vote delegates voted for Johnson, nine for Kennedy and one for Symington, but the delegation uses the unit rule.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said that an upheaval within the 31-vote Minnesota delegation seemed to have given Stevenson, instead of Kennedy, a majority there.

The convention got its first taste of the excitement delegates, and spectators craved when Stevenson, twice the party nominee, paid an unannounced visit to the floor Tuesday night.

Surrounded by admirers and newsmen as he reached the outer gates of the convention area, the former Illinois governor literally had to fight his way to the floor behind a cordon of policemen.

Galleries Wake Up

His appearance awoke the previously lethargic galleries. They whooped and hollered as they have had few occasions to do in this well-oiled convention. But a lot of voting delegates noticeably sat on their hands.

Kennedy's backers had hoped to get Stevenson to place the Massachusetts senator's name in nomination. But Stevenson stood them off with the observation that he couldn't desert those who had worked so hard to generate a draft for him.

Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, Kennedy's floor manager, stuck to his line that Kennedy will win the nomination on the first or second ballot.

The Kennedy camp remained so outwardly confident of the result that it was considering giving Johnson the opportunity of refusing second place on the ticket. Some of the Massachusetts senator's backers had half an idea that Johnson might take it.

In such a situation Johnson could run both for re-election to the Senate and for vice president. This idea drew Bronx cheers from Johnson's supporters.

Onteora Area

Two separate resolutions will be voted on today. One would authorize expenditure of $5,000 for additional accident insurance for Onteora students and a $500 item for library funds for Woodstock, Phoenixia, West Shokan and Pine Hill.

These two items, if adopted, would raise the total amount to be raised by taxes to $1,078,253. This is an increase of $200,622 over the 1959-60 budget of $877,631.

The following district poll centers are scheduled to be open from 2 to 9 p. m. today:

District No. 1, town of Shandaken and that part of Lexington already in district, poll center, auditorium, Shandaken Town Hall.

District No. 2, town of Olive and that part of Marbletown in the district; poll center, gymnasium, Onteora Central School.

District No. 3, town of Woodstock; poll center, gymnasium, Woodstock Elementary School.

District No. 4, town of Hurley, poll center, gymnasium, West Hurley Elementary School. This is the first million-dollar (by tax levy) budget in the history of the district.

Saugerties Adopts

was not brought to a vote.

The motion if approved would have limited the athletic program to $5,000. Hano in a previous session sought to limit school athletics to intra-mural sports, and abandon all athletics which requires competition between schools.

Several of the nearly 400 taxpayers attending rose to defend the athletic program of the school.

Both motions came during the period of discussion on the $10,500 allocation for athletics in the budget, an increase of $2,500.

Major increases in the budget are noted under instructional services which includes the addition to the staff of 11 teachers for next year. The anticipated enrollment increase will also require additional expenditures for textbooks and supplies used for instruction. The total increase is $134,220 and includes across the board increases to teachers and salary adjustments in the step up program amounting to $98,840.

Administration increases are as follows:

Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of schools, $1,500 to $13,500 per year.

David S. Cunningham, high school principal, $1,000 to $9,000.

Miss May Evans, elementary director, $600 to $8,100.

Norman Bolinder, Main Street School principal, $850 to $7,800.

Patrick Buonfiglio, Glasco School principal, $500 to $7,800.

Patrick Rodden, business manager, $500 to $7,850.

David Hildebrandt, superintendent of buildings, $500 to $6,700.

Mrs. Margaret Marburger, clerk of the board, $300 to $4,700.

Collector's salary, $200 to $1,400.

Lawrence Cahill, vice principal of the high school, $400 to $7,550.

Teacher's salaries for kindergarten through Sixth Grade increased $54,000 to $352,775, and for Seventh through 12th Grade, $44,440 to $296,390.

The total for instructional service was $790,497, an increase of $124,845 over last year.

Increases to the custodian staff total $4,050, and cafeteria workers will receive a five-cent per hour increase up to $1.30 per hour.

These salaries are paid out of lunchroom receipts.

Maintenance of plant calls for an increase of $18,000. Auxiliary agencies count for an increase of $34,900. The major portion of this is for transportation.

Fixed charges, including pensions, civil service, social security, and insurance, accounts for an additional $29,340.

Capital outlay increased $6,351-41 which covers furniture and instructional equipment.

Transportation of pupils increased $23,365 to $155,823. Pensions, state teachers retirement increased $14,000 to $36,603.

$215,394 More in Budget

The new budget figure is an increase of $215,394.11 over last year's $1,445,779.40, however due to increased assessed valuation in the district, the basic tax rate is only 90 cents over last year's figure of $71.60.

In the election for temporary chairman, Daniel N. Lamb, local attorney defeated Albert V. Conte, insurance adjuster, 218 to 59. Milton Armstrong of the village presented the resolution for adoption of the budget following an appeal by Vincent Amrod to vote against adoption.

In a last ditch move, Conte presented a motion to table the hearing on the budget for two weeks, but was ruled out of order as the adoption resolution had been previously presented and seconded.

Tellers for the balloting were John W. Davis, Conte, Richard Letzette, Albert J. Cawein, David Bell, and Gerald L. Snyder.

Total estimated income in the budget is $971,404.34 in state aid; includes $958,404.34 in state aid; $88,000 cash balance, and a total of $5,000 collected locally such as athletic receipts.

This leaves $683,914.97 to be raised by taxes.

Voting Is Today

The annual election for board of education members is scheduled from 12 noon to 9 p. m. today at Main Street School.

Vagrant Revives Orange Boy After Fall Into Hudson

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP)—

Seven-year-old Getty Smith was playing near the Hudson River today when he slipped and fell into deep water.

His sister, Lydia, 14, pulled him out, but he was unconscious. Just then a vagrant, Willie White, came by. He quickly and skillfully applied artificial respiration. Young Getty, gasping and choking, revived, and was taken to St. Luke's Hospital for further treatment.

And what happened to Willie White, the hero of the day? He wandered off quietly as vagrants will.

order in disturbed areas, the spokesman said.

Today's was the first show of force between Belgians and Congolese here since the outbreak of the Congolese army mutiny that has led to the death of 12 Europeans, scores of Negroes and the flight of at least 15,000 of the territory's 100,000 whites.

The Congolese, though all armed, seemed to have no firm command.

Ministers Walter Ganshof van der Meersch and August de Schrijver, who came here at the weekend to try to unravel the tangled Congo situation, flew back to Brussels. They were recalled for urgent consultations.

White Officers Jailed

Reports from troubled Thysville, where angry Congolese troops Tuesday took 48 whites as hostages and jailed all the white officers at Camp Hardy, indicate the town is largely under the control of the mutinous military forces. A morning report, contrary to earlier information, said that several white women, most of them half naked, were held as hostages.

There are practically no white people left now in the south Congo town of Luabulaba. Most have flown to Leopoldville in a fleet of hurriedly assembled aircraft manned by pilots from many nations under control of the Belgian airline, Sabena. Passengers included sick and wounded and pregnant women.

Attacked 15 Times

A middle-aged woman passenger told an airline steward that, before she was rescued by Belgian paratroops, she had been raped 15 times by African soldiers.

As the steward tried to comfort her and her family of young children she said: "It's a nightmare I want to forget. All I want is to get away from the Congo and never to see it again."

A dispatch from Salisbury, Rhodesia, said a U. S. Air Force Globemaster, which has been ferrying out Americans, turned today to the task of hauling out whites of all nationalities. The Globemaster is one of a fleet of U. S., Belgian, Dutch and Italian planes engaged in the refugee operation.

The Leopoldville airport operation opened the way for a resumption of free flow of all air traffic.

GE Earnings Trimmed

NEW YORK (AP)—Declining sales of defense products and major appliances trimmed General Electric Co.'s volume and earnings in the first half of this year.

The company earned $111,429,000, equal to $1.25 per share, on sales of $2,022,699,000. This compares with earnings of $117,239,000, or $1.34 per share, and sales of $2,065,447,000 in the first half of 1959.

YoungHousewifeAdvised To Retain Oil Shares

Q) "I'm a young housewife and a mother of two. I care for my brother and sister who are both under 13 and are orphans. My father had 100 shares of Esso Standard Oil stock which now belongs to the three of us. The question has come up whether to sell it or not. For the sake of the small children I would like to do what is best and wise for the future. Could you please help me in this matter?"—M. S.

A) People in my business get rather cynical at times, confronted as we so often are by the little greeds and selfishness of so much of humanity. Then we get a letter like yours and the world seems all right again and our job becomes very much worthwhile. You sound like a very nice young person, and I'm only too glad to help you in any way I can. What you are holding is Standard Oil of New Jersey, which is sometimes called Esso because much of their product is marketed under that name. Standard Oil company is the greatest oil company in the world and one of the greatest business enterprises in the world. The shares are of the highest quality but they are selling relatively low in price because the world at present has too much oil and it may take time to clear up this situation. At its recent level around 40, your stock was selling to yield 5.5 per cent, and Chairman Leo Welch said recently that he could "see no reason for apprehension concerning the dividend." Looking ahead to the future of your brother and sister, I believe you have a strong stock that will resume its growth trend after a year or two and in the interim will pay you a satisfactory return. I advise you to hold your shares.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

Editor's Note—During AP TV columnist Cynthia Lowry's vacation, noted TV personalities are taking over her corner. Here's the man from NBC's "Today" show with some philosophy of his own.

By DAVE GARROWAY

As host of the television show "Today," which has achieved some renown as a communications program, I'm probably more aware of news happenings than the average man in the street.

However, even if I were a private citizen in some area of work outside the communications field, I still would be interested, concerned, and hold opinions regarding the state of the world. Just as it's my job as a communicator to keep up with happenings, it's as much my job as a citizen to stay informed.

I think one of the great problems facing this country today is the complacency of some of our citizens. Too often the response to a serious question concerning current events is, "I have my own problems. I can't be interested in what's happening in Geneva or Russia."

That the foregoing sentiment is more widespread than I had believed was brought home to me in a dramatic and shocking manner recently. At the time President Eisenhower's trip to Japan had been canceled because of the Tokyo riots, we took our "Today" cameras into the streets to discover what some of our citizens thought of this blow to American prestige and personal effort to our President. The majority of people interviewed were barely concerned. There were personal regrets for the President's feelings, and some people said that it was an unfortunate incident, but hardly anyone we spoke to had a strong opinion regarding it. It was almost like talking to a baseball fan who's team had just lost. "It's too bad," he'd say, "but there's always a tomorrow."

Is there always a tomorrow? I hope and fervently pray so, but in the atomic age there's always the threat that one little figure will push one little button, and then there will be no tomorrows. The answer to this threat or to any other threat to peace is not resignation and complacency, and it has never been in this country. The answer is action.

We owe it to ourselves and our country to be aware.

Our greatest danger is not that the Russians are doing too much, but that we are doing too little.

Opponents' Bids Helps to Six

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Usually an adverse opening bid is sufficient to keep you out of a slam, but there is no reason why it should. In fact there are many occasions when you should be able to bid a slam with great confidence because you know that the opening bid made against you has been a sound one.

Thus, if North were the dealer of today's hand he would almost surely open one diamond. South would respond one spade and it would not make much difference if West bid two hearts or passed. North would jump to four spades and the bidding would stop right there.

However, West happened to be the dealer and made his sound opening heart bid. North doubled and East attempted to muddy the waters with his three heart bid. He muddled the waters all right, but when the mud settled, North and South had reached six spades.

It was logical. South was not going to be shut out with his two kings and six card suit and as for North he reached for the slam immediately.

North had only 18 points in high cards, but his partner had been able to bid three spades and North felt certain that any missing kings would be right in front of his ace-queen combinations.

North was right. West cashed the king of hearts and shifted to a club. South won, drew trumps, ruffed his other heart, tried to get a discard of his second diamond on dummy's long club. The suit failed to break so South fell back on the diamond finesse which worked for him.

Dag Will Send Observers, Not Troops to Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Dag Hammarskjöld is reported planning to rush U.N. military observers from Palestine to the Congo to help the new African government reorganize its military.

The new turn of events in the Congo, where the revolted country's President and Prime Minister are reported to oppose their own government's request for United Nations help, got attention in the State Department today.

Officials withheld comment pending full reports, but said there is no question of reviewing the decision not to send U.N. troops to the Congo.

The problem of evacuating Americans scattered in remote areas concerned the administration.

Rescue flights by light airplanes from the British territories of Uganda, Tanganyika, and Rhodesia, are continuing, officials said, but many Americans individually reach safety by crossing the border on the ground.

But diplomatic sources said today the U.N. secretary general does not plan to send any troops since the Congo government asked the U.N. for only administrators.

These sources reported that the military observers, probably Scandinavians, will go to the Congo as army instructors and police advisers in a team of public administrators Hammarskjöld is forming to help the embattled young regime end the chaos which has followed the end of Belgian control.

New Regulations Proposed on Some Vitamin Products

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Food and Drug Administration today proposed a new regulation to require that vitamin preparations containing high levels of folic acid be sold only on prescription.

Folic acid is found in some multiple vitamin and vitamin food supplement products and is sometimes prescribed as an addition to the diet of pregnant women. FDA said it is not in itself harmful, but "it has been known to mask the symptoms of pernicious anemia when added in sufficient quantities to the diets of persons with this disease, thus interfering with proper diagnosis."

High levels are regarded as more than 0.4 milligram or 400 micrograms per daily dose.

Manufacturers of vitamin preparations containing lesser amounts of folic acid would be required to submit by March 6, 1961, scientific evidence of the safety of their product, otherwise it too would be limited to prescription sale.

The industry and others concerned have 15 days in which to file written comments.

Ryan Trial . . .

Court, on Tuesday refused to dismiss an indictment returned on August 8, 1959, by a regular Ulster County grand jury charging Morgan D. Ryan with bribery.

The indictment, returned by the regular March 1959 grand jury, alleged Ryan gave bribes to three town road superintendents while he was in the employ of the defunct Ulster Bituminous Asphalt Company.

A prior indictment charging conspiracy returned by the special "kickback" grand jury had been dismissed on appeal on the grounds Ryan had gained immunity when he appeared before that body.

Jury Called Back

The matter was then presented to the regular March 1959 grand jury which was called back into session last August to hear the matter. On August 8, 1959 that grand jury before which Ryan had not appeared, returned an indictment.

This indictment was attacked by N. LeVan Haver, Ryan's counsel on the grounds it was based on "leads and links" from testimony which Ryan had given before the special grand jury where he had acquired immunity.

Ryan, now a resource assistant in the Ulster County Welfare Department, is the former treasurer of the defunct Ulster Bituminous Distributors Corporation of Kingston, which had a plant for distribution of road oils and materials on Route 28 just west of Kingston.

Called Key Figure

Ryan has been repeatedly referred to as a "key figure" in the Ulster County kickback probe by Special Assistant Attorney General Bernard Tompkins, special prosecutor named by Governor Harriman and continued in that position by Governor Rockefeller.

It is alleged that certain road oil concerns paid a one cent per gallon kickback to town superintendents of highways on purchase of road oil. In the Ryan case it is alleged this was done by the Ulster Bituminous Corporation and that Ryan was involved in the payments to the town officials.

Long involved in the courts, the Ryan case was set down for trial by Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg for May 16, 1960, but that trial date was delayed pending decision by the Appellate Division.

Ryan sought to have the bribery indictment returned last August dismissed or as an alternative that inspection of the grand jury minutes be had.

The original indictment charging Ryan with conspiracy was returned by the special grand jury on March 10, 1959. In that indictment he was jointly charged with Ernest A. Steuding. That indictment against Ryan was dismissed by the Appellate Division in April 1959 on the grounds there had been wrongful testimony presented and Ryan's constitutional rights had been violated. That decision was affirmed by the Court of Appeals on July 8, 1959.

The March regular grand jury was then convened and the matter submitted to that body by Special Prosecutor Tompkins. The result was an indictment which was again attacked by Ryan's counsel on the grounds the grand jury had not been legally in session and further that the indictment had been found on leads provided in the examination of Ryan when he appeared before the special grand jury. The Appellate Division yesterday said the indictment was valid and refused to dismiss.

"There is no factual showing that the instant indictment was found upon evidence procured from leads and links formed by the testimony of Ryan before the special grand jury," the Appellate court said in its decision. However, Ryan's attorney was out of town today and not available for comment on the Appellate Court's decision.

Mother Carries Infant Through Flames to Safety

FRANKLIN SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—A mother wrapped her 15-month-old baby in a blanket and walked through a barrier of flames to safety today. The father leaped 18 feet from a window.

Robert Lane, 43, and his wife, Marion, 42, badly burned, were in critical condition in St. Elizabeth Hospital in nearby Utica.

The baby escaped injury as did seven of the 10 Lane children in the house at the time.

Fire Chief Wilfred Goering said the fire started in a bedroom chair. Flames blocked the exit.

The Lane's oldest son, Robert, 16, said he attempted to reach the couple but was driven back.

Two of the Lane children were sleeping outside in a tent.

Robert counted the other youngsters as they fled out of the 15-room, two-story frame house and discovered three-year-old Michael missing.

Robert rushed inside and retrieved Michael, who slept throughout.

The fire was confined to the chair and the bedroom floor. Goering said he believed the fire was started by a cigarette.

McKneally Mum On Legion Shift Of Fall Meeting

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The head of the American Legion said today he would have no immediate comment on a report the Legion will move its October convention from Miami Beach if that city grants a parade permit to the 40 & 8.

The comment came from commander Martin McKneally, who was here on Legion business.

The 40 & 8, a social branch of the Legion before it was ousted in a controversy over racial segregation, will hold its convention at Bal Harbour, Fla. It is scheduled the week after the Legion's national meeting.

McKneally said of the report in the Miami Herald, "I will not comment because it is still a matter under negotiation. When it is wrapped up, I'll have something to say."

The commander said he expected to have a statement on the 40 & 8 matter when he is in Green Bay, Wis., Friday.

from charitable institutions and agencies throughout the United States who are expected to attend the conference, was made Friday by the Right Rev. Monsignor George H. Guilfoyle, National Conference president and Cardinal Spellman's secretary for charities.

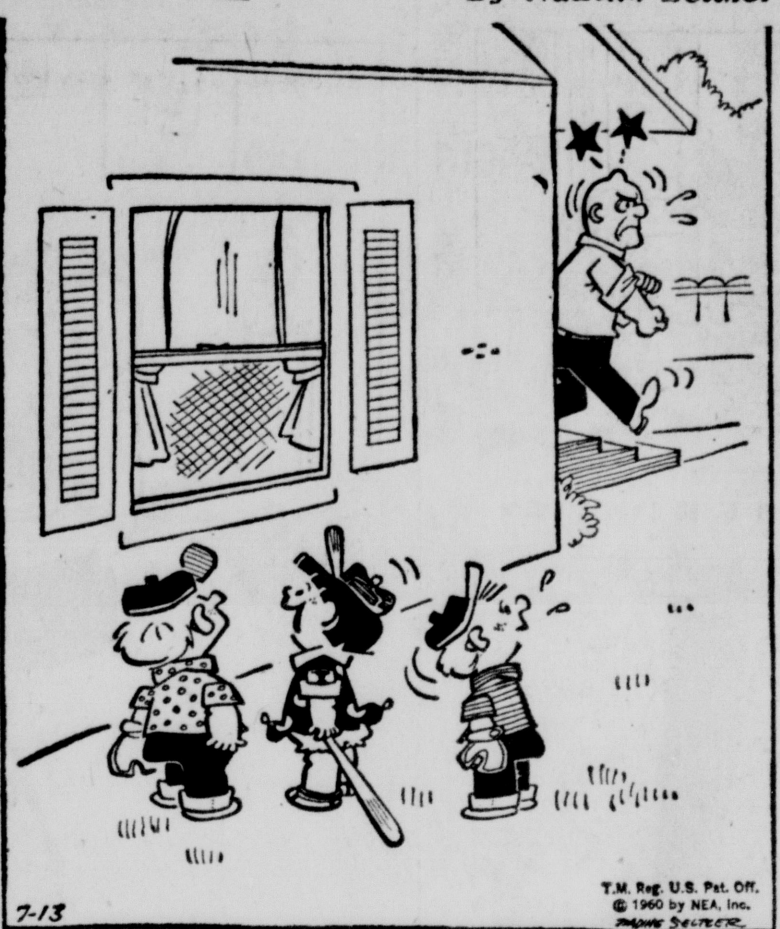

The conference will convene Friday, Sept. 23, and continue through Tuesday, September 27, with headquarters at the Statler Hilton Hotel. The program will include a Pontifical Mass celebrated by Cardinal Spellman in St. Patrick's Cathedral Sunday, Sept. 25, at which the Most Rev. Patrick A. O'Boyle, Archbishop of Washington, D. C., will preach the sermon. President Eisenhower will speak at the Conference's Golden Jubilee dinner on Monday, September 26, in the Statler Hilton Hotel.

Begins Again

COHOES, N. Y. (AP)—At the age of 65, when many persons are ending their business careers, Charles J. Ellett is embarking on a new one, undaunted by blindness. Ellett recently passed an examination to become a licensed insurance agent. He studied from Braille textbooks and completed his course at Siena College, Albany, in the upper portion of his class. The one-time telephone company worker became blind in 1935.

Where Is Russian Automation?
IFAC Delegates Can't Find It

New York, July 12—Where is the Russian automation that Moscow has been bragging about for so long?

This is a question that is puzzling delegates to the International Federation of Automatic Control in Moscow, reports Central Engineering, McGraw-Hill publication.

With paper presentations over, members are touring plants and research institutes in Moscow and Leningrad, and can find no sign of program controlled machines.

In Leningrad, some delegates visited the Sverdlov Machine Tool Plant to see examples of automation. None were seen among the millers, jigbores and hydraulic copiers being produced.

The plant's top engineer declared, "Continuous control systems are planned for next year's production."

Other delegates toured the Leningrad Vibrator plant, a vodka bottling plant and the Institute of Electromechanics. Everywhere the story was the same—good competent work, but often in incredible conditions with material apparently indiscriminately stacked all over the shop.

Although the work is competent, delegates felt it did not add up to automatic control as it is known in the free world.

Most widely advanced explanation for the apparent lack of progress over the last two years was that in spite of magnificent prospects for automation held out at the 21st Congress of the Communist Party and reiterated at last year's plenum meeting, no one has actually tried to start the process.

Feeling goes that until it is begun, research institutes will continue concentrating on theoretical studies with a few isolated pilot plant experiments.

Meanwhile, plants continue as before, trying to satisfy the vast demand still existing for the same control devices they were manufacturing two years ago.

But, delegates believe, once automation is started, the Soviets will attack industrial control applications as hard as they did rocketry and missiles.

Women Bank Presidents

BOONEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A woman bank president is still something of a rarity, but the Citizens Bank of Booneville has had two during its 50 years of existence. The late Mrs. Mattie Edwards, one of the founders, was president for 30 years. The current president is Mrs. Long John Williams, who succeeded her husband in the job when he died in 1957.

Staying young is not only a good habit with most women, but an old one.

Some of the better things in life come to people who wait, if they wait on themselves.

A large percentage of girl graduates find husbands, says a college professor. Wouldn't it be better if they looked for single men?

If you're only as old as you feel, why don't insurance companies base life rates on that idea?

Think It Through

E. F. HUTTON
TO THE RESCUE, MEN!

A few weeks ago, Senator Kennedy said that seventeen million Americans went hungry to bed every night.

Not to be outdone, Senator Symington started the Harvard Business School recently by informing them that "about 40,000,000 American families still have incomes below the commonly accepted minimum requirements for an American standard of living."

As his rival, Senator Kennedy is a Harvard man, this was a bomb inside the breastworks.

It is generally figured that a family averages around three and one-half persons. Forty million families therefore are 140,000,000 persons—out of a total of 180,000,000. This is about 78% of all of us.

In the light of this deplorable situation, how can any Harvard graduate now vote for Kennedy?

All hands to the pumps, boys! The remaining 22% of us must rescue the 78% from their sad predicament.

Mr. Symington's 140,000,000 people equal just about everybody outside of New York, California and Illinois.

If Huey Long were living, he would say, "Share the wealth."

That thought is also found in the New Testament when a rich young man got worried like Messrs. Symington and Kennedy.

If things are as black now as these gentlemen say, what will it be in the closing weeks of October?

With the various Governments taking 30% in taxes from these 140,000,000 people, I'd suggest that Government lift some of this burden off their backs.

How about it, Senators?

Utica Man Given Right to Appeal Court Conviction

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — A former Utica street superintendent, facing a prison sentence on conviction, had the right today to appeal the conviction to the state's highest court.

The trial of Joseph N. Bollettieri involved questions meriting the attention of the Court of Appeals, Judge John Van Voorhis, a member of the court, decided Tuesday.

Van Voorhis, in granting the move on the plea of Bollettieri's lawyer, pointed out that he was not ruling on the questions themselves.

Attorney Paul Shanahan argued that State Police investigated the jury panel in the Bollettieri trial before the jurors were selected.

The state, in its investigation of vice and crime in the Utica area, accused Bollettieri of charging to the city $965 in building materials used on his home.

The jury convicted him and he was sentenced to serve five to 10 years in prison.

State Prosecutor Robert E. Fischer acknowledged the investigation of panel members. He said it was necessary because persons convicted of misdemeanors and bad moral traits had been found on juries in the past.

Shanahan also contended that a witness in Bollettieri's trial was cross-examined improperly.

Bollettieri is free in $10,000 bail, pending outcome of his appeal.

Military Units Have $994,855,000 to Build

WASHINGTON (AP)—The armed forces and other military units today had $994,855,000 in appropriations for military construction in the current fiscal year.

President Eisenhower Tuesday signed the measure compromised by the House and Senate July 1.

The appropriations:

Army, $148,407,000; Navy, $162,519,000; Air Force, $609,501,000; long-range communications systems, $19,000,000.

Army Reserve, $16,038,000; Naval Reserve, $4,000,000; Air Force Reserve, $4,000,000; Army National Guard, $17,540,000; and Air National Guard, $13,850,000.

The total is $193,955,000 below the President's budget requests, and $346,271,200 less than was appropriated during the last fiscal year that ended June 30.

Rescuers Hunting For Plane, 18 Are Feared Killed

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador (AP)—Two rescue parties struggled up 15,423-foot-high Mt. Pichincha today, trying to reach the wreckage of a U.S. military transport in which it was feared 18 persons died.

Air searchers spotted the wreckage 14,000 feet up the mountain Tuesday and reported they saw no sign of life. Headed by Lt. Col. James E. Sover, U.S. air attaché in Bogota, Colombia, the party of six American military men, two Ecuadorian diplomats, four wives and six children were flying to Quito for presentation of the U.S. Legion of Merit to the head of Ecuador's air force Monday.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

MABEL DE PUY, Correspondent

Pageant Planned
As Part of 10th
Stone House Day

NEW PALTZ—The 10th annual Stone House Day will take place here Aug. 6. One of the main features will be the presentation of a pageant depicting the life, abduction and rescue of Catherine DuBois from the Indians.

Written and directed by Mr. and Mrs. Ashton Hart, scenes will unfold the experiences of Catherine DuBois from the time she arrived at Wiltwyck until her dramatic rescue from the Indians. The scenes will be complete in every detail, including the costumes, some of which are direct family heirlooms from the early Huguenots.

There will be battles between the Indians and the early settlers. Featured also will be Indian dances performed in full regalia by Alfred Douglas, a full-blooded Cherokee Indian, who will play the role of Chief Pappahanan.

Folk dances will be performed, too, by young people of the area under the direction of Judy Babb.

Historian, Kenneth Hasbrouck, will present a 15-minute slide and taped lecture in the Fellowship Hall. This feature will be presented on a continuing basis throughout the day.

Dressed in costumes of the times, members of the old Dutch Reformed Church will conduct guided tours through the historic buildings along Huguenot Street from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m. Seven old stone houses will be open to the public including the Bevier-Elting house which was built in 1698.

Three houses in the outlying area will also be open to the public. They are the Colonial Josiah Hasbrouck house, Modena Road, the home of Matilda Blake, Libertyville Road, and the John Toben home, Plains Road.

Members of the Dutch Guild will serve luncheon, and the Kerk League will be in charge of refreshments which will be available all day.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office) By JIMMY HATLO

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

So much is being said and written about Rondout, lately. There is the handsome Cornell Building on Ferry Street facing Broadway, which the city historian, Joseph Sullivan described so well. Some eight or nine million dollar enterprises were in that building and now it will house the welfare department. The view from those picture windows on the creek will be fascinating, I am sure.

Then there is the urban renewal project. It is said some 200 acres of ground will be leveled, and some 1500 buildings will be removed and some 1300 families moved. Many of the families, who live here, and whose parents have lived here are uneasy about it. It is difficult to uproot folks from a section they have been used to, and the freedom of their way of life to a barracks sort of living. Most of the folks around here are from the country originally. They like their neighbors, their porches and their front and back stoops and their back yards and their pets and their children playing with neighbors children. They do not like and many cannot understand restrictions of the kind necessary for housing projects. Many I have spoken to have presented these thoughts to me, and wonder why new building projects do not go up on land not being used in nearby areas.

Going back to the middle of the 19th century when The Strand boasted a population of some 7,000 and almost double that of Kingston, incorporated under the name of Rondout. Leon Seiky tells about it in his "The Rondout and His Canal." He writes in part: "Twalfs-kill, busily engaged in the shipment of bluestone, had grown into a village of more than 100 dwellings, to be known as Wilbur. Eddyville was teeming with activity. The wide street along the towpath was lined with large buildings in which a brisk trade was carried on day and night. At either Connolly and Schaffer's, at Back Brothers, or at Ben Turner's Emporia, standing near the entrance to the tide-water lock, the canal could find work clothes or Sunday apparel for every member of his household."

He further writes: "On the long shelves behind the heavy mahogany counters could be seen row upon row of tins where candies, plug, paper, and ladies' twist tobacco; and Macoboy and Rappee snuff were kept. Hard by were the half opened barrels of salt fall mackerel, salt beef, and herring, and large casks of pungent cheddar cheese. Toward the back of the store huge coils of rope stood in front of nests of shovels, pickaxes, and cast iron pots and pans.

"Loaded boats glided into the basin above the lock. The tired teams driven by young lads were unhitched and taken to one of the large stables behind the stores. The barges entered the weighlock and after their load was ascertained were locked to lower level. Here they would make fast to the long dock where 50 or 60 others awaited the tugs that were to take them to Rondout or New York."

Rondout was built by honest hard work, and the children's children of those people still have some of their original homes in this section.

Seminar to Curb
Delinquency Slated

ALBANY — Many of the courses and workshops at the 11th annual Moran Institute on Delinquency and Crime at St. Lawrence University, Canton, have been designed for the large group of probation and parole officers and administrators who will be among the more than 400 correctional workers in attendance during the week of July 17-22.

Arch E. Saylor, chief U.S. probation officer, Southern District of New York, will conduct a course on "Casework Techniques Applied to Probation and Parole." Saylor will also direct a workshop dealing with "Therapeutic Techniques in the Treatment of Probationers," in which he will be assisted by William G. Clancy of New York and Albert W. Roche of Rochester, senior examiners for the division of Probation, State Department of Correction.

Conscience Tax Fund
Deposits Total $542

ALBANY — Payments to the state "conscience fund" totalling $542 have been received and deposited in the State's General Fund, it was reported today by Joseph H. Murphy, commissioner of taxation and finance.

The payments, all anonymous, ranged from $1 to $160 and were made both in currency and by money order. All were mailed in plain envelopes without explanation.

Four payments of $50, $140, $150 and $160 were money orders purchased from three New York City banks. Serial numbers were recorded from currency payments before the money was turned over to the general fund. Envelopes bore postmarks from New York City, Albany and Witherbee.

Ruling Widens Court's Previous Ban on Wiretap

NEW YORK (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals has ruled that the prosecution in a forthcoming trial in state court cannot introduce any evidence developed by police or prosecutors as a result of wiretapping.

The ruling widened the court's previous ban on introduction of the intercepted telephone communications themselves.

The ruling, issued Tuesday, was made pending final determination by the U. S. Supreme Court in a pending review.

In the new ruling, all five active judges of the court again expressed opposition to the use or disclosure of intercepted information.

But the extension of the ban to cover evidence developed as a result of wiretap was a new development in the long controversy over use of wiretaps in state courts that has plagued both federal and state officials. Federal law bans wiretap evidence in U. S. courts. There has been widespread argument over whether the federal ban extends to state court use of wiretap evidence.

Escapée Transferred To Arkansas Prison

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—Benjamin G. Crippen, 30, of Rome, N. Y., who escaped from the jail here Friday with three other prisoners, was transferred to the Arkansas Penitentiary Tuesday to start serving a 21-year sentence for robbery.

Before the transfer, Crippen, who also faces a murder charge, pleaded innocent because of insanity to charges of escaping jail and grand larceny.

Crippen and another prisoner were recaptured Sunday in Dyersburg, Tenn. The other two have not been found.

Crippen was sentenced on his guilty plea last week to a holdup at Judsonia, Ark.

The murder charge was filed in the holdup slaying June 4 of Otha Mead, 50, a Milltown, Ark., storekeeper.

Trial dates on the murder charge and the new charges stemming from the escape were not set.

Local Boy Scouts Leave on Saturday for Colorado Trip

Saturday will be "D Day" (departure date) for some 70 scouts and leaders of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America who will board a special train in Albany for their long awaited trip to the Fifth National Jamboree to be held in Colorado Springs, Colorado from July 22-28.

Part of the "Great Jamboree Adventure" will begin as the scouts travel across the nation; tours will be made at Niagara Falls, Greenfield Village, (near Detroit, Mich.), Yellowstone National Park, Cody, Wyoming, and other points of interest.

Will Join 55,600 Others
At the Fifth National Jamboree, to be held at the Reverse J. Diamond Ranch near Colorado Springs (opposite the new Air Force Academy), the Rip Van Winkle delegation will join with 55,600 other scouts from all parts of the nation who will be gathered to celebrate the Golden Jubilee of the Boy Scouts of America.

In addition to the 55,600 American scout participants there will be more than 500 overseas scouts and explorers quartered in various parts of the 2,000 acre Jamboree encampment.

Scouts will cook their own meals (by Patrol units) over charcoal fires. The preparation of one meal will require as many as 16,000 charcoal cooking fires going at one time. Two hundred and eighty three tons of charcoal briquettes or nearly 20 freight car loads will be used.

Some idea of the quantities of food to be consumed during the week long encampment can be seen from the following:

Plan Final Dinner

It will take 1,330 heads of steer to supply the needed cuts of top sirloin for the final dinner on July 28.

The daily fresh milk requirements 74,840 quarts, if from one herd would require the full average production of 7,448 cows.

If laid out to end the frankfurters consumed by the Scouts would extend over 17 miles.

The health and protection services of the Jamboree will include medical service, dental service, sanitary supervision, safety protection and traffic control.

Precautions Taken

The U. S. Public Health Service, Army, State of Colorado, fire fighting groups, medical societies, health departments, police groups, and others have actively cooperated in providing trained personnel and facilities for the protection of the Jamboree scouts.

During the stay of all units at the Jamboree site, provision has been made for proper religious observances under the chaplains of all faiths.

The Jamboree will be a great demonstration of camping skills with emphasis placed on fellowship. Each unit will plan its own program, taking into consideration the scheduled sectional and Jamboree-wide activities program which will be featured each day from July 22 to 28.

Local Historical Society to Hear About Vanderlyns

Members of Ulster County Historical Society will hear a talk on the three Vanderlyns, painters of 17th and 18th Century Ulster County at their meeting Saturday 2:30 p. m. in Bevier House, Marbltown.

Miss Louise Heron, authority on the Vanderlyns, especially the famous John Vanderlyn, will be the speaker. A number of slides have been sent by Dr. Corey from the Office of the State Historian to the president of the Ulster County Historical Society, Kenneth E. Hasbrouck.

Slides to Be Shown
These slides will be shown during the talk. They represent an excellent collection of best-known paintings by the Vanderlyns.

Miss Heron, has long been associated with the Senate House of Kingston, has done a great deal of work in association with Mrs. E. C. Chadbourne, an avid collector of Vanderlyn paintings. It has been through the efforts of Mrs. Chadbourne that the Senate House has such a fine exhibit of paintings of the most celebrated Ulster County painter, John Vanderlyn.

Peter Vanderlyn, the first of the family who painted, left a number of portraits which gave a lasting reminder of how our early citizens looked and dressed. Vanderlyns were painting before the Revolutionary War. Pietet Vanderlyn painted portraits in the early 1700's.

Most Impressive
One of the most impressive is of Gertrude Esselstein, wife of Jacobus Bruyn. The "key portrait" is of Elsie Rutgers Vas.

John Vanderlyn, who was the protégé of Aaron Burr, studied in Europe and became acquainted with the masters. He first tried to follow the European style of painting, but in his later works, developed his own individuality.

John Vanderlyn, the younger, nephew of John, also painted. His portraits are good and very interesting to view in connection with the overall picture of the family tradition as painters.

John Vanderlyn, the younger, left a number of paintings, which are still owned by descendants of those who had them done. Many of these paintings are in Ulster County.

Examples of the three Vanderlyns will be on display at Bevier House, Marbltown, when the members of the Ulster County Historical Society meet.

County to Raze Glenerie Bridge; Plans New Span

The Sauer Bridge, a Town of Saugerties landmark, more popularly known as the PVI or Glenerie Bridge across Esopus Creek, connecting Route 9W and Mt. Marion Road, will be torn down and replaced by a more sturdy and modern span, it was made known today.

Plans of Ulster County Highway Department to replace the bridge were revealed by the purchase of the former Pleasant

SAUGERTIES LANDMARK

Valley Inn site adjacent to the bridge.

The property was sold to the county by Ralph Ammacapone of Lindenhurst, L. I., who owned the property and PVI when it burned to the ground a few years ago.

According to preliminary plans the approach to the bridge will run across the PVI property and the span will cross the Esopus diagonally to eliminate the sharp curve at the west pier.

Ulster County Board of Supervisors are expected to authorize advertising for bids on the new construction and approach at the Thursday night session.

The Sauer Bridge was built in 1896 during the administration of Town Supervisor John D. Fratscher, a former Saugerties postmaster.

The span, a well-known landmark to area residents was a popular site for vacationers in the Saugerties resort area. It was built by Horseheads Bridge Co., of Horseheads, Chemung County.

Provisions for its replacement were drafted in the last county budget.

Long Session Also Tires TV Watchers

By BOB THOMAS
LOS ANGELES (AP) — These are times that try the souls of convention watchers before the home screen.

The second session of the Democratic National Convention tested their endurance. That endurance must have snapped for most viewers as the meet ground on for six hours, less nine minutes.

Plus which, all three networks went on the air an hour early to cover the Kennedy-Johnson debate.

Man, that's a lot of viewing. A rapid calculator has come up with this observation: Air time for Tuesday's political show equaled the running time of "Gone With the Wind" and "Ben-Hur" placed end to end.

The end result for loyal viewers was numbness. Not just physical, but mental, too. Politics aside, there was simply too much talk for any human being to assimilate.

The best part of the show was in the first half hour. The TV cameras moved right in on the Johnson-Kennedy exchange in the Billmore ballroom and caught the nuances of this rare spontaneous event. Only one thing was missed on the home screen, the deep blush on Johnson as Kennedy finished his talk with glib. None of the networks is televising in color.

Two rare moments were caught by the cameras at the Sports Arena. One was the entrance of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, which the TV viewers saw before convention Chairman Leroy Collins did.

The demonstration for Adlai E. Stevenson also was exciting. This was TV reporting in crack style. The cameras moved right in on the surging mob around Stevenson, giving a view that spectators in the arena couldn't get.

The rest of the evening was rugged going. It was a clever idea to pictorialize the platform with film clips, but the running time was too much. The Dixie assault on the civil rights plank produced a lot of oratory, some of it fiery, but no real drama.

Cemetery Group Votes Officers on Monday

The annual meeting of the directors of the North Marbletown Cemetery Association was held at the home of J. Clifford Cole Monday night. The financial report was read, after which the following officers were re-elected:

A. J. Keator, president; Howard Basten, vice president; J. Clifford Cole, treasurer; James Gillespie, secretary and J. C. Cole, superintendent of cemetery.

matter of FACT

"Nazi" was once just the German nickname for "Ig-natz." When Hitler's party, Nationalsozialistische Deutsche Arbeiter-Partei, was coming into the news, obviously a shortened form of this name was needed. So party members took the first two syllables of the party name, which sounded like the familiar diminutive.

Chapin Desires Hirschberg as His Murder Counsel

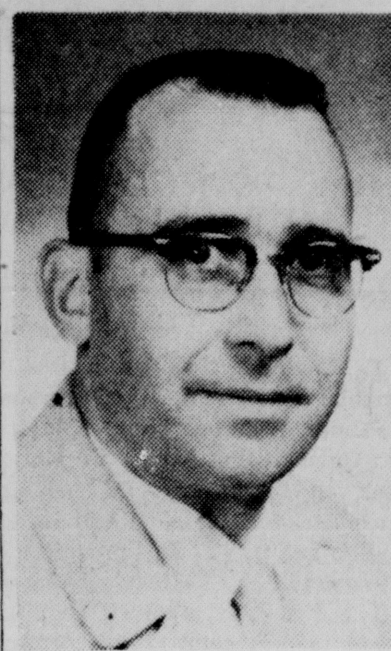

Wilber H. Chapin, 43, Hyde Park mechanic, accused of slaying his wife, Mrs. Elsie Young, 34, told him of his decision to seek the services of Hirschberg to represent Chapin. Chapin, who was employed as a mechanic at a Rhinebeck garage, is accused of slaying his wife, Theresa, 34, with his fists and a hunting knife on July 4. State police said the couple quarreled about money Mrs. Chapin reportedly wanted to use to buy a car. Her body was discovered in tall grass and weeds off Schultz Road, Town of Clinton. Hirschberg has been defense counsel in many major criminal cases. He was attorney for Wells Ben Van Steenberg, Hyde Park youth, at his two murder trials, the first of which ended in a disagreement by the jury, and the second in acquittal. Authorities had accused Van Steenberg of slaying Mrs. Mary Beresford, a Rhinebeck dog fancier. Hirschberg also was defense attorney last September for Malcolm R. White, president of the Chester Cable Co., Orange County, who was acquitted after trial in Orange County court on a murder charge, which accused him of slaying Alfred Dugan, a labor organizer on Nov. 13, 1958. Dugan was leading a strike against the cable company at the time.

Hotel Employees Due for Extra Pay This Week

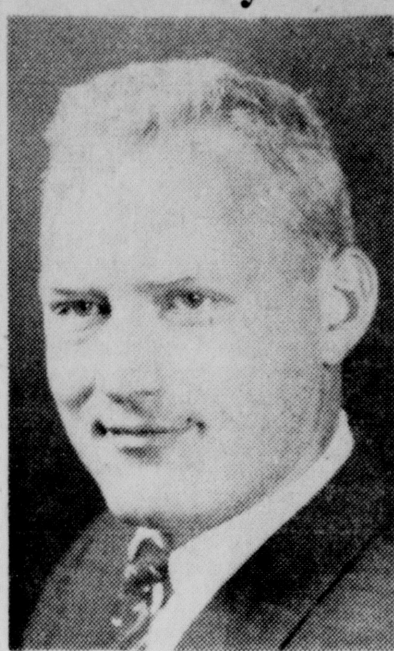

NEW YORK (AP)—Some 35,000 hotel employees can count on good news from the state this week. Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz said Tuesday more than half a million dollars in back pay will be put in the mails. The checks are the result of a Court of Appeals decision affirming a state-ordered minimum pay rise from 75 cents to a dollar an hour for hotel workers. Employees will get the increase back to Nov. 14, 1957, the date of the order. A group of hotel owners had protested.

Rivalry Delays Vote in Japan; Odds for Ikeda

TOKYO (AP)—Factional rivalries within the ruling Liberal Democratic party today postponed election of Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's successor at least 24 hours, but Hayato Ikeda was still considered likely to win Thursday. Ikeda, known for his pro-Western thinking and tough anti-inflationary policies, was believed to command enough of the party convention's 513 votes to win on at least the second ballot. Only a simple majority is needed. Resignation of Kishi's cabinet and election of the new party president to the prime ministry by the lower house of Parliament was expected to follow immediately after the party election. Kishi, after bringing the new U. S.-Japanese military treaty into effect, announced June 23 he would resign. After 3½ years in office, he had been under heavy fire from some members of his own party as well as leftist opponents of the treaty.

Lie Detector May Link Suspect to 7 Coast Deaths

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police say they hope a lie detector test will tell whether a man held in connection with the strangulation of a coed is the "Bouncing Ball" killer wanted for seven other murders. Detectives said Raymond W. Clemmons, 36, a San Quentin parolee and door-to-door Bible salesman, has admitted strangling Nina T. Thoren, 19, with her scarlet capri pants Tuesday. Her late father, Robert T. Thoren, was an author of mystery books and screen plays including "Act of Murder" and "The Prowler." Police said Clemmons told them he offered the attractive coed a ride and then told her: "Sure, I'm the Bouncing Ball killer. Look in the glove compartment. The ball is in there." Seven other women have been strangled in Los Angeles in recent months. Police say a man seen calmly bouncing a rubber ball after killing an elderly woman, the latest of the other victims, may have killed them all. The ball bouncer, like Clemmons, was a Negro. Clemmons was arrested after Miss Thoren's screams attracted police. Her half-nude body was found nearby on the campus of Los Angeles City College, where she was a student. Clemmons, booked on suspicion of murder, told police the coed screamed when he made advances to her and "I just wanted to make her stop screaming."

Put on Probation For Worthless Checks

Accused of issuing worthless checks in the amounts of $67.75 and $33, Otto Vanicsek, 33, Hyde Park, received a suspended sentence and was placed on probation for a year by Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz on Tuesday. The defendant was ordered to make restitution for the $67.75 check. "It's a shame that a man with your education should commit a larceny because you lost your job," Schwartz told the defendant. Richard Corbally, defense attorney, pleaded for leniency and told the judge that Vanicsek was the father of two children, and that the defendant's wife and children would have to depend on the county for support if Vanicsek was sentenced to jail. Vanicsek, a native of Hungary, previously pleaded guilty to the charges.

Cop Is Suspended, Ignored Race Order

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Rudy Di Biasio, the Syracuse policeman whose sideline is auto-racing, has been suspended from the force for insubordination. Di Biasio suffered fractures of both legs June 26 when his midget racer jumped a guard rail at the Reading, Pa., fairgrounds. Di Biasio is in a Reading hospital. Police Chief Harold F. Kelly suspended Di Biasio Tuesday, pending a hearing, on the ground the patrolman ignored Kelly's order of a year ago to give up racing. The order followed an accident in which Di Biasio's racer struck and killed an official at a Waterloo track.

SISTERS TO ATTEND MUSIC PAGEANT—The Erickson sisters, (l-r) Virginia, Evelyn and Geneva, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Erickson of 107 Dunwoodie Drive, this city, will participate in a religious music-drama at Palmyra given by the Mormon Church. The pageant is scheduled for August 4, 5 and 6. (Freeman photo)

Three Local Residents Will Participate In Mormon Church Pageant at Palmyra

Three residents from this area will leave shortly to begin rehearsals for America's largest and most spectacular religious music-drama, the annual Hill Cumorah Pageant near Palmyra, N. Y., to be presented Aug. 4, 5 and 6.

They are: Evelyn, Geneva and Virginia Erickson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Erickson of 107 Dunwoodie Drive, Kingston.

They are members of the Kingston congregation of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) meeting at the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue.

The president of the local congregation is Leslie A. Smith of Hurley.

This huge production, with a cast of more than 300 actors and 50 technicians is presented on five major stages and 20 secondary stages in an area of Hill Cumorah larger than a football field.

Outdoor Performance

"It will be a thrilling experience for us to participate in this pageant," the girls said. "We are honored and delighted to be chosen." The pageant is presented at night, beginning at 9 o'clock before many thousands of spectators. The darkness makes it possible to achieve spectacular lighting effects with the aid of colored lights, spotlights, flood lights and dimmers. It takes more than a ton of wiring. Colored lights are made to play on three water curtains which rise 20 feet. This gives a shimmering, diaphanous effect for certain visions. All the actors are clad in colorful costumes.

As the performers act out their parts on the big hillside, there is a resounding accompaniment of a three-track stereo-phonetic tape recording with music by the 90-piece Utah State Symphony Orchestra, the combined choruses of Brigham Young University and the Salt Lake Tabernacle Organ of 11,000 pipes which is heard over the CBS Radio Network each Sunday morning. In addition, there are such impressive sound effects as the crash of thunder and the convulsion of earthquakes.

Admission is free. Parking space is set aside for all cars and is also free.

Hill Cumorah is about 25 miles south east of Rochester and four miles south of Palmyra on Highway 21. Those using the New York Thruway should turn off at Exit 43—the Manchester Interchange.

Time Magazine, the girls pointed out, has said of the pageant: "It is put together with the highest professional polish and the latest technical equipment."

The story of the Hill Cumorah Pageant, they say, is based on the Bible and the Book of Mormon. It tells how a small band of people led by the Prophet Lehi left Jerusalem 600 years before Christ and journeyed to America. The Book of Mormon tells how Christ came to these people after His resurrection. These people built a great civilization in the New World but fell to warring among themselves. One of the last survivors of the righteous group, called the Nephites, buried a chronicle of his people inscribed on golden plates on Hill Cumorah. The Angel Moroni led Joseph Smith of Palmyra there 1400 years later.

Hansen Is Director

Highlights of the Pageant include the Nativity of Christ, the warnings of various prophets, the arrest and crucifixion of Christ, His appearance to his people in the New World, the destruction of the city of Zarahemla. In general, the theme is the eternal struggle between the forces of evil and the forces of righteousness.

The director is Dr. Harold I. Hansen and is noted for his end-less rehearsals. Dr. Hansen has not yet been notified as to the roles they will take.

"This year's presentation of the Pageant is especially meaningful to us because it marks the 130th anniversary of the founding of the Mormon Church," the residents said.

Joseph Smith and five other men founded the Church at Fayette, which is about 30 miles from Palmyra, in 1830. Today the church has a world-wide membership of 1,600,000. Its headquarters are in Salt Lake City, Utah. There are nearly 20,000 Mormons in the Eastern States Mission area which takes in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, and the District of Columbia. The 184 missionaries in the area, who are mostly from the West, serve for two years. Headquarters of the mission are at 973 Fifth Avenue in New York City.

New Building Here

The local congregation is now in the process of building their own chapel which is under construction on Fording Place Road, Lake Katrine, N. Y. The girls are here with their parents from Murray, Utah. Mr. Erickson is serving as construction superintendent for the new chapel. Occupancy is planned for late 1960 or early 1961.

Of Many Things

by DOROTHY A. NAREL Freeman Society Editor

Youth Seeks Purpose in Life

In England, they are called "Teddy Boys." In the Federal Republic of Germany, they are the Halbstärke (the half-matured); in France, Blousons Noirs (Black Jackets); in Poland and the Soviet Union, "Holligans"; in Italy, vitelloni (fat calves); in Australia and New Zealand, "Bodgies" and "Widgies" (girls); in South Africa, "Tsotsis"; and in Japan, "Mambo Boys."

Who are they? In the United States we know them as juvenile delinquents.

The FBI has reported that 47 per cent of the more serious crimes in this country are committed by juveniles. But we are not alone.

Juvenile delinquency has increased so rapidly around the globe that a special world meeting has been called for August 8-20 in London. Preliminary reports for the meeting, known officially as the Second UN Congress on the Prevention of Crime and Treatment of Offenders, reveal startling facts. Facts we perhaps have known but have ignored.

The annual increase in court appearances in this country, by juveniles has certainly increased according to a U. S. Senate Subcommittee report. Some 20 per cent of boys in the 10-17 age group in the U. S. had a delinquency record. In numbers, they exceeded 1,700,000 and the subcommittee estimated that soon they would exceed 2,000,000.

The situation is termed "acute" in the United Kingdom and Sweden as well.

Among a few countries where an upward trend has been reported are: the Federal Republic of Germany, where during the years 1955-1957 a series of juvenile groups rioted; Belgium, Canada, Brazil, Colombia, Mexico, Peru, Uruguay, Venezuela, Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, Union of South Africa, Nigeria, Japan, the Philippines, India (urban areas), Burma, Australia, Austria, China, Finland, Greece, Switzerland, Vietnam and Yugoslavia.

Not a very pretty picture, is it? True, the excessive publicity that juvenile delinquency gets as a "news item" has occasionally exaggerated the gravity and extent of the problem. But experts still claim the problem is greater than would appear from just looking at one year's figures.

Where Is the Decay?

All preliminary reports for the world meeting point to one major cause—the disintegration of the family accompanied by a more or less general lowering of moral values.

The sweep is general. It is no longer true that the juvenile delinquent is a product of poverty, lack of education or poor health, although in less developed countries this is still the link, because today more and more juveniles from the higher-income brackets are becoming delinquents.

Progressive education takes a brutal blow to the chin in these reports as does conflict of parental authority and results of some recent trends in psychology, all of which are listed under causing factors.

Studies have shown that the youth of Australia, for example, while not lacking in intelligence or money, feel a sense of cynical hopelessness dominating all their thinking. As the report states, "... their life lacks a real purpose for them."

A study of the "Teddy Boys" in England showed them also "socially insecure. They are purposeless; the war still attracts them because then there was one great overriding purpose—victory; they can find no great purpose of the same sort in the world today."

The meeting of nations in London in August will review the reports at hand and discuss preventive measures aimed at all juveniles, not only those who show delinquent tendencies. Their recommendations will include better recreational and leisure-time programs; health clinics; child welfare programs, slum clearance projects and visiting teachers, to name a few.

It will be interesting to see the results of this meeting.

Apologies to Hyde Park

There comes a time in every business when a mistake is made. Unfortunately this happened with our review of Hyde Park's hit play, "Look Homeward Angel" which appeared in Tuesday's Freeman.

In setting up the column the boys erred and somehow copy page three appeared before page one. With the tremendous volume of copy our composing room handles each day, it is remarkable that more errors do not occur. We are sorry it had to happen with Hyde Park's review. But bear with us — being humans, mistakes are inevitable. As it is, our boys generally do a terrific job.

Noel Coward Comedy Opens

JERRY WEISS

The versatility and wit of the English playwright, actor, director and musical composer, Noel Coward, lives in every line of his comedy-satire, NUDE WITH VIOLIN which opened at Woodstock Playhouse last night.

Taking top acting honors again is Jerry Weiss, cast as Sebastian, man servant of a supposedly genius artist, who devises a master plan of his own in order to capitalize on his employer's death.

Weiss, who received his training at the Neighborhood Playhouse, College Theatre and Paul Mann Actors Workshop, also studied Shakespeare with Morris Carnovsky and dance with Jose Limon and Martha Graham. He has been seen in off-Broadway shows ARSENIC AND OLD LACE, AH, WILDERNESS, and BOY MEETS GIRL. He has a BA degree and has taught speech at the American Theatre Wing, Welch Workshop and Seven Arts Center Theatre Club.

In the play, NUDE WITH VIOLIN, Weiss carries off his role with finesse and ease—certainly a tribute to his acting ability.

Also caught up in the mad, whirling plot, is Isobel Sorodin, wife of the deceased, played by Jane Lloyd Jones of Woodstock. With such TV credits as Kraft, Philco and the Alcoa Hour, Jane Lloyd Jones completes her sixth year at Woodstock Playhouse this year. A versatile actress, she did a wonderful job last night.

Prolonged applause should also go to Gaye Glaeser who played the role of Jane, daughter of the famous artist. It would seem from last night's performance that comedy is her forte. David Gale as Colin, the artist's son, and Nancy Jones-Henry as Pamela, also turned in creditable performances.

The harassed art critic who sees his professional career crashing down around him is played by Herman O. Arbeit who was formerly associated with Station WNEW. He has also appeared on numerous TV shows including U. S. Steel Hour, Circle Theatre and Studio One. His portrayal was very convincing.

Other members of the fine cast are Pat Lyons as Marie-Celeste; George Bartenieff, Clinton Preminger Jr.; Stephani Frangos as Anya Pavlikov; Lisa Kolb in the role of Cherry-May Waterton; Larry Wolf as Fabrice; Bob Pond playing Obadiah Levell; John Workman as George; and Gilles Malkine as Lauderdale.

At the risk of repeating myself, I think the resident group at Woodstock is doing a very good job so far this season.

Play Given in Ireland

According to the program note, NUDE WITH VIOLIN was first performed in a try-out in Dublin, Ireland, in late September, 1956. Inasmuch as the English take quite a ribbing in this play in a way as only Noel Coward can write it, it is no wonder that a London critic predicted it was doomed to an early death. However, when the play opened in London in 1956, it ran for 47 weeks, first with Sir John Gielgud in its leading role, then Michael Wilding and later Robert Helpmann.

The play made its American debut in this country on October 28, 1957 in Philadelphia. It began a run in New York in November, 1957.

A Pox on the Gossip Who Maligns the Young Girl

One of the meanest and most cruel things that one woman can do to another of her sex is for a middle-aged or older woman to give a young girl a bad reputation.

Usually the remarks are sly: "I don't know what her parents are thinking of to let her come in at any hour of the night," or . . .

"There may not be any truth in it, but I hear she is kind of wild," or . . .

"She's a pretty girl; it's a shame that she is getting a poor reputation. My Janice says . . ."

Of course, she's popular. That type of girl always has a flock of boys around.

Just one sly remark, like any of those, can do a girl great harm. The remark is passed along. With each telling the insinuations become a bit stronger, until a girl is branded as "wild" and has a poor reputation to try to live down.

It would seem that any mother of a daughter would be the last person to attack a young girl's reputation—knowing how terrible she would feel if any busybody ever made an insinuation against her own daughter.

The truth is that the women who do the most gossiping about young girls often are mothers of young daughters.

Their comments may be prompted by jealousy. Maybe they are living in a dream world where they think their own daughter is a little angel who wouldn't do any of the things her friends do.

Maybe they just like to gossip and never realize how much harm they do when their gossip hurts the reputation of a young girl.

But whatever the reason, there is a viciousness to their sly comments that is shocking.

The only way to deal with such remarks is to say firmly: "I'm sure you're mistaken."

Child Health Clinic Slated for July 19

A child health conference will be conducted by the Ulster County Health Department at the Tumor Clinic building, 400 Broadway on Tuesday, July 19 from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m.

The clinic is limited to infant and preschool children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and polio.

Health officials said these are well clinics for the maintenance of health and prevention of disease, not for the care of the sick child. Children under the regular health supervision of their physician are not admitted unless the physician desires this service to be taken over by the child health conference. In this manner, the officials said, duplication of service is avoided, facilitating the work of the private physician.

A CLERGYMAN'S PLEA

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a clergyman and have been an ardent admirer of yours for many years. You have done much to influence the manners and morals of the men and women of our country. Knowing how widespread your column is, I am appealing to you to please write something in regard to proper dress in church. Sunday after Sunday I have noticed an increasing number of women coming to church with bare backs and shoulders. True, the weather has been very hot but that is no excuse to come to church dressed in that fashion. It is really shocking. Won't you please advise your women readers to be more modest in their dress—at least when going to church.

Answer: I agree with you that there is no degree of heat unbearable enough to excuse women's coming into the House of God immodestly dressed. Even in the hottest tropics women come to church in clothes that decently cover them.

Eating in Public
Dear Mrs. Post: Quite often when I leave the office at night I stop and buy myself a chocolate bar to eat on the subway to tide me over until dinner. One of the girls with whom I work jokingly criticized me for this and said that it was not good manners to eat anything in public—except of course at a picnic. Will you please tell me if she is right about this?

Answer: She is right. We should really try to avoid eating in public. However, eating a small amount of chocolate in a subway ought not to be frowned upon.

Answering a Compliment
Dear Mrs. Post: When someone pays me a compliment I get very flustered and never know what to say. Will you please help me?

Answer: Smile with pleasure as you say, "Thank you," and then talk about something else. Remember that looking pleased is not necessarily an act of vanity but of appreciation of the other person's kindness.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-10, "Wedding Invitations and Announcements," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. (Released by The Bell Syndicate)

Girls Captive Of Mysterious Slumber Malady

CLEVELAND (AP) — Touched by the plight of two "sleeping beauty" sisters, a sympathetic public has poured gifts, suggestions and offers of help to the family of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent N. Frantantonio.

The two girls—Bernadette, 3, and Venita, 5—are captives of a mysterious malady of slumber. A diagnosis of the illness that sent Venita into a coma Sunday is expected from doctors at Mount Sinai Hospital by the end of the week.

"I'm so afraid time may run out before they find out what the trouble is and what to do about it," said Mrs. Frantantonio. "They tell me that the tests take time. But time means so much to us now."

Bernadette has been under the strange spell since last fall, with only occasional moments of wakefulness. She is believed victim of some unknown progressive brain atrophy.

Physicians are unable to say whether the two ailments are related. They have assured the "sleeping beauty" sickness is not contagious.

Examination of members of the family, including grandparents, discloses no similar ailments in the family history.

Catholic holy medals, books, toys, rocking chairs, special healing services, baby-sitting offers, transportation—these are some of the things that came from the public.

C. C. Brinley Dies
NEW YORK (AP)—Clarence C. Brinley, 71, an inventor credited with designing and installing pneumatic tubes for high speed mail-handling in the Pentagon at Washington, D. C., died Tuesday after a long illness.

He was a sales engineer for 18 years in the New York City office of the Lamson Corp. of Syracuse, a manufacturing concern.

Brinley, whose home was on Staten Island, was an associate of birth-control advocate Margaret Sanger in the early 1900s, a leader of the women's suffrage movement and a close friend of the late poet, Edwin Markham.

The main street in Tel-Aviv, Israel, is named for Britain's Gen. Allenby who liberated Jerusalem in 1917.

CAMBRIDGE, N. Y. (AP) — A 54-year-old assistant cashier, employed by a bank in this Washington County community since she was 23, is charged with embezzling $30,500 from the bank.

The FBI arrested Miss Mildred E. Decker at her home here Tuesday and accused her of taking the money from the Cambridge Valley National Bank over a 15-year period.

Agents said she made false entries in bank records to conceal the alleged shortage.

Collins Speaks In Generalities

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida has told the Democratic National Convention it must proclaim an America committed to war against colonialism, poverty, hunger, disease, ignorance and prejudice.

Collins, permanent chairman of the convention, gave his second session Tuesday an old-fashioned political speech, full of sonorous, rolling phrases and couched in generalities.

Unlike the keynote address the previous night by Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, Collins' speech did not attack President Eisenhower or Vice President Richard M. Nixon by name. His criticism of the GOP was more or less indirect.

"An America headed for moral bankruptcy under a self-satisfied banner of 'peace and prosperity' never can win a world for democracy and human freedom," Collins said.

"Indeed, the American people, hearing this Republican chant of 'peace and prosperity,' are sickened when, abroad, the causes of war are virtually untouched, and when, at home, there is little peace of mind and serious lack of prosperity of spirit."

Collins recited a litany of praise for past Democratic presidents. "In times of deepest crisis, when history has required that great Presidents be produced, the Democratic party has risen to the challenge," he added.

Expected to Die

Refugee, Sought In Slaying of 6, Shot by Police

UNION, N.J. (AP) — Michael Fekecs, a Hungarian refugee accused of murdering six persons, lay in a coma on a hospital bed today, a policeman's bullet lodged in the base of his skull.

The end of one of the most intense manhunts in the state's history came Tuesday night when Fekecs tried to shoot it out with two policemen on a dirt road in a wooded area.

He fired a volley of wild shots before being brought down by a bullet fired by Union Patrolman Walter Leamy.

Fekecs, 25, a lover of sports cars, formal clothes, and jazz records, was being sought by police for questioning in connection with the slaying of two policemen in Highland Park last Sunday.

The search gathered momentum Tuesday after Middlesex County Prosecutor Edward J. Dolan said that Fekecs had killed the two policemen and had slain four other persons on a North Brunswick estate last January.

Doctors at Elizabeth General Hospital said the bullet had caused a massive brain hemorrhage and Fekecs was not expected to live.

Fekecs was picked up Sunday for driving with a revoked operator's license. The two arresting Franklin Township patrolmen, George Dunham, 31, and John Lebed, 30, took him to his apartment so he could get $250 for bail.

The policemen later were found slain on the floor of the one-room apartment. Each had a .32-caliber bullet in his right temple. The murder weapon and Lebed's .38 caliber service revolver were missing.

Cancer Drive Nets

$614 in West Hurley

Cancer drive total for West Hurley was announced today as $614.59 by chairman Mrs. Daniel Fochi. A total of $414.59 was raised by house-to-house canvass with the balance raised by an auction on July 9.

Rhoda is the Greek feminine name meaning "a rose."

Dolan said ballistics tests showed the same gun used to kill the four policemen was used to kill four persons on the estate of Dr. Francis Clarke last Jan. 26.

An unidentified person entered Clarke's home while he was away performing an operation, tied up four persons, and shot each through the temple with a .32-caliber pistol. The victims were Clarke's 57-year-old invalid wife, her companion, a maid, and the Newark cab driver who drove the slayer to the large colonial house.

Order Shortage Closes 2nd Adirondacks Mine

MORIAH, N. Y. (AP) — The Republic Steel Corp. has closed its second mine in the Adirondacks in two weeks because of a shortage of pig-iron orders.

The Port Henry division mine in this Essex County community was closed Tuesday and its 500 employees laid off indefinitely.

The company shut its Chateaugay division mine at Lyon Mountain after banking its blast furnace at Troy at the end of June.

The blast furnace would be idle at least two months, the company said at the time.

The closing at Lyon Mountain idled 250.

William A. Blomstran, plant manager here, said he did not know when the mine would reopen.

Statewide steel industry layoffs total more than 4,000.

Historian Lectures At Plattsburgh College

Kenneth E. Shrock of Wallkill Central School faculty was invited recently to the State University College of Education, Plattsburgh, to lecture on the Dutch period in the Hudson River Valley.

The subject included economic, military, religious and social aspects of the Dutch.

The seminar given at Plattsburgh is a part of their program to aid teachers in their classrooms with material and ideas on how to give children a better background in New York State history. Many teachers have to teach as part of their program the history of the community.

Marionettes Top Act Awaiting Patrons of Fair

All young folks from one to a hundred can start counting their blessings and the days until Library Fair Day, for the Herrick Marionettes will give two performances of Stars on Strings on the day of the fair. By the best of good fortune fair goers will be treated to a most entertaining show written and produced by Ron and Janet Herrick, widely known Hudson Valley puppeteers.

Herrick, past president and current board member of the national organization, Puppeteers of America, will not be playing Woodstock, but Marie Newkirk, musician and versatile manipulator, will be with Janet Herrick on July 28.

Although the Herricks have gained great recognition downstate and in New England, their fame is spreading farther southward and westward. During the past year performances were given at Cornell, Northwestern, North Carolina and Chapel Hill and UCLA in California.

Exact Science
All those techniques which many of us take for granted in the theater, the movies and television come into sharper focus on the puppet stage where the closeness of performers and audiences make each gesture, inflection of voice, lighting, scenery and costuming of importance. Here exacting skills and technical virtuosity are required to make the difference in performances. And here the Herricks excel, having developed not only the techniques but script materials as well. Stars on Strings promises to be an outstanding attraction.

It has been truthfully said that it is difficult to find anyone who doesn't like puppets and marionettes. It is not illogical that children the world over have, since the first doll (fetish) adored marionettes and puppets. For adults the situation is different, but probably relative to a latent core of youth in all of us. When the adult watches the show it is not unlike a parent watching the unredeemed of precocity of the new baby's first steps.

Aside from the entertainment value, marionettes and puppets are truly miraculous engines for good. The educational and pedagogical possibilities of puppetry are unlimited and have been exploited from earliest times. In fact it is more true of other times than ours. Didactic drama has somehow fallen by the way in our age but with a strong organization such as the Puppeteers of America and performers like the Herricks in the field this art will continue to flourish. Don't miss the Herricks at the Woodstock Library Fair on July 28.

Two Natures of Christ Is Basis for Sunday Sermon for Rev. Olson

The Guild for Christian Service of the Woodstock Reformed Church is sponsoring a smorgasbord Thursday starting at 5:30 p. m. Tickets are nominally priced for adults and children and the public is invited.

The sermon topic for the Rev. Wayne C. Olson at the Sunday 11 a. m. service is "The Two Natures of Christ," based on the two Creedal statements—"Conceived by the Holy Ghost, born of the Virgin Mary."

This sermon will deal with the Divine and human natures of Christ, the question of the virgin birth and the position of Mary in Christian theology. The service will be broadcast over Station WGHQ. During the service Willard Walker of Glenford will be ordained to the office of deacon and installed to that office. He was elected at the recent congregational meeting to replace Irving Buckminster, who has moved to San Jose, Calif.

Nursery facilities are provided for small children; visitors are welcome.

Vacation School

3 Supervisors Join Longer Term Study

Three Dutchess County supervisors have been named to a special committee to work with town highway superintendents and town clerks on proposed legislation enabling towns to elect officials for four year terms, instead of two years now specified for certain offices.

Board Chairman Robert J. Blinn, (R-Amenia) named Supervisors Lyndon Hickman, (R-East Fishkill); Cecil Sherow, (D-Pleasant Valley); Ezra Cookingham, (R-Red Hook) to the special committee.

The highway committee of the Board of Supervisors recommended that three supervisors be named to the committee to draw up legislation, and that the supervisors be allowed to name to the committee three town highway superintendents and three town clerks.

A similar bill on four year terms was rejected by the Legislature last year.

Blind Man Desires To Carry Pistol

ATLANTA (AP)—An Atlanta factory worker has applied for a permit to carry a pistol, but officials indicated that although he may be a very good shot they are going to refuse him.

The factory where Paul W. Starnes works is the state factory for the blind.

The 54-year-old blind man says he has been shooting pistols, rifles and shotguns for 20 years and claims he is about as good a shot as anybody. But authorities still were skeptical.

Platform Urges Speedy Action to End Racial Bias

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 1960 Democratic platform calls for speedy government action to end racial discrimination.

This is in contrast to the party's 1956 platform. Four years ago the party was willing to go more slowly. It rejected interference with what it called an orderly determination of civil rights complaints by the courts.

The 1960 platform cites recent sit-down strikes at lunch counters as reflecting dissatisfaction with the progress being made to end desegregation.

The 1956 declaration promised the party would continue its efforts to eradicate discrimination based on race, religion or color. This would take, it said, cooperative efforts on the part of individual citizens and state and local governments as well as federal action.

The new platform does this. It places emphasis on action by the legislative and administrative

Mrs. Hallenbeck's 77 Leads Twaalfskill's Invitational

Catskill Star Posts Nines of 39 and 38

Mrs. Gertrude Hallenbeck, the golfing grandmother from the Catskill Country Club, fired a 2 over women's par 77 to lead a record breaking field of 86 players in the annual Twaalfskill women's Invitational Tuesday. The entry total was one of the largest in local golf history.

Mrs. Hallenbeck, the current Northeastern Women's senior champion, battled hot, humid weather and slick greens to card nines of 39 and 38 to finish six strokes lower than the runner-up, Mrs. William R. Bogle of the Dutchess Golf and Country Club. She needed 33 putts for the 18 holes.

Mrs. Ernest Schirmer of Twaalfskill and Mrs. E. W. Plain of Dutchess posted 92s to tie for Class B gross honors, while Mrs. William Kuehn of Twaalfskill, a 2-year golfer, posted 105 to finish a stroke ahead of Mrs. Rodney Ball of Rip Van Winkle and Mrs. Lloyd Le Fevre of Wiltwyck Country Club for low gross in Class C.

A 13-stroke handicap to go with an 83 gross enabled Mrs. Bogle to post low net of 70 in Class A.

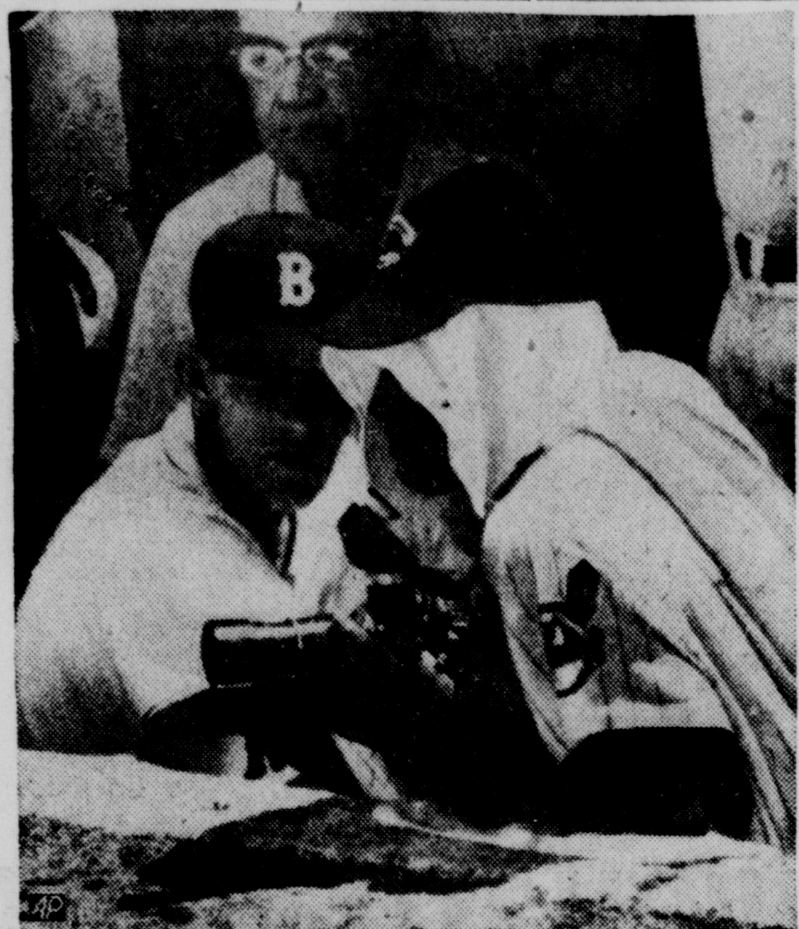

Mrs. Robert Carnright of Twaalfskill won low net with an 8-under-par 67 in Class B. Mrs. Ball led Class C net with 106-38-68, but the prize under the rules was awarded to Mrs. C. Stanley of Dutchess with 106-32-74.

The two area champions, Mrs. William D. Harris of Twaalfskill and Mrs. A. J. (Wiggie) de Liso of Woodstock, shot 85 and 88, respectively. ### Jersey City Club Gets Whitewashed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Herb Moford pulled the welcome mat from under the New Jersey City entry in the International Baseball League Tuesday night. He shut them out with only one hit as his Miami Marlins took a 4-0 decision over the erstwhile Havana Sugar Kings.

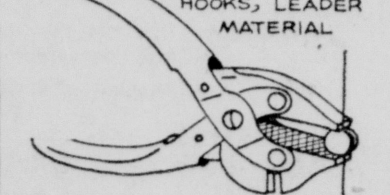

Jersey City, whose nickname will be decided by a fan vote, had just had all obstacles cleared to play the remainder of its home season in Roosevelt Stadium, when Moford went to work here.

Columbus snapped a four-game losing streak with a 4-3 victory over Richmond while Toronto defeated Buffalo 7-4 to push their first place margin to 9½ games ahead of the second-place Bisons. Rochester defeated Montreal 6-1 in a five-inning, rain shortened first game of a doubleheader. The second game was postponed.

Bridge City Has Powerful Lineup Seeking Repeat

Fabled Billy Ostrom Heads League Champs

The Kingston Braves have adopted the slogan "Beat Poughkeepsie" for the climactic clash of the New York-New Jersey Baseball League rivals Saturday at 8:30 p. m. at Dietz Stadium.

This is an ancient rivalry nurtured from the pre-World War I days of the Hudson River League and fired by incidents in the crucial meeting between the clubs last year at Poughkeepsie.

In its 1960 setting, the contest is of such importance that it could decide the pennant, although the Spring Valley Bengals displayed awesome power over the weekend in crushing Beacon, 26 to 8, and West Haverstraw, 14 to 3.

Poughkeepsie won the 1959 pennant for the Bridge City tossers. A violent ruckus erupted over the interpretation of a ground rule and it led to a Kingston protest which was eventually turned down by the league's arbitration committee.

The Hoe-Bowls will come to Kingston with the legendary Billy Ostrom (The Kid) as playing-manager. The fabulous pre-war Kingston Recreation is still a tremendous ball player, good enough to win the Most Valuable Player award in the NY-NJ League in 1959. Ostrom hits the long ball to all fields and is a sure 300 hitter.

Poughkeepsie is 1-1 in the league, having been upended by West Haverstraw, but Manager Ostrom has kept the team busy in exhibition games against high class travelling teams like the Indianapolis Clowns and New York Cubans.

Have Veteran Army
Although the Hoe-Bowls experimented furiously to come up with a combination to cope with the expected Kingston power this year, they now seem to have settled on last year's powerful array.

Three members of the team—Ostrom, Bob McKenna and Fran Sychak were All-NY-NJ selections in 1959. Other holdovers include Curt Bates, shortstop; Glenn Santmire, former Roosevelt High star; Deke Johnson and Roger Callahan.

Bill Haver, returned from army stint and John Plambeck, who spent a brief spell in the San Francisco Giants' farm system, are also on the roster.

Ostrom has used Dave Centi, former major league pitcher, both in the box and the outfield for his hitting prowess. The Hoe-Bowls are also expected to come up with a possible surprise pitching choice.

Fred Davi has two front line southpaws—Kingston's Bob Maines and Larry De Vita—ready for the invaders. De Vita pitched the Bowls to the pennant last year but switched allegiance to Kingston this year.

It should be a typical Kingston-Poughkeepsie baseball brawl Saturday night and don't be surprised if it develops a major ruckus of one kind or another.

Texans Do Very Well In Of Miss Tourney
WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Texans grabbed three of the top four qualifying spots in the Trans-Mississippi Men's Golf Tournament Tuesday with John Garrett, former Rice University star from Houston, firing a 70-66-136 for the medal.

Charles Coody of Stamford, Tex., matched Garrett's 4-under-par 66 Tuesday and wound up a stroke back at 137. Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., former British Amateur winner, had a 69-69-138 and Jack Cupit of Longview, Tex., broke even with par at 71-69-140.

Grays Pad Margin In Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Grays, getting a two-hit shutout for the second night in a row, beat Lancaster 2-0 on John Herrstein's 400-foot homer. Right-hander Ed Hughes (2-2) turned in the shutout.

Harlem Valley Wins Tourney Game, 7-2, Over Saugerties

Semi-Finals Set To Begin Tonight At Dietz Stadium

Sid Osofsky, Pine Plains Central School star, pitched Harlem Valley to the semi-finals of the District Nine Babe Ruth tourney, as the Dutchess County crew trimmed Saugerties, 7-2, yesterday at Dietz Stadium.

The semi-final action starts tonight as Beacon plays the Kingston Nationals in a 6 o'clock contest. Then Thursday at 8:30, Harlem Valley will play the Kingston Americans.

Dave Barton, son of the Pine Plains coach, tripled for the only extra base hit in the contest, though the winners had 11 safeties. Osofsky helped his cause with three singles and left fielder Rich Wyman also stroked three hits.

The winners scored solo runs in both the first and second innings, added a pair in the fourth, one in the fifth and two more in the sixth.

Osofsky walked four and struck out 11. He scattered three hits, all singles. The losers scored their markers in the first and fourth frames.

Costello 3rd in Jaycee Meet at Binghamton

LIVE BENCH—Members of the Allentown, Pa., Eastern League Red Sox even brought cameras for a pre-game swimsuit fashion show at Max Hess Stadium. Kay Mohr gets the full treatment as the model prances by the dugout.

His 72-80-152 Earns Him a Trip To Waterloo, Iowa

William "Buzzy" Costello, the Kingston entry in the annual New York State Junior Chamber of Commerce golf tourney at the Vestal Hills Country Club in Binghamton, placed third after firing an 80 yesterday for a 36 hole score of 152.

Costello will join winner Leon Kantor of New York Mills, Howie Derrick of Amsterdam and John Parsons of Seneca Falls, in the National Jaycee Golf championship, scheduled to take place at Waterloo, Iowa, from Aug. 13 to 20.

Costello, who won the recent local Jaycee title to earn the right to compete at Binghamton, had equalled par on opening day with a 72. However, he went eight over in yesterday's action to finish with his 152.

Kantor, who sank a six-foot putt on the 18th green of the hilly course, had a 78 yesterday, six strokes above the par 72 he turned in Monday, for a 36-hole score of 73 and 78 for 151.

Sixty-five boys under 18 competed in the two-day tournament.

AL Evades Expansion At Meeting

NEW YORK (AP)—The American League, openly in favor of expanding, admitted today it cannot do anything about increasing its eight-team set-up without the full cooperation of the National League.

A spokesman for the baseball's junior circuit, in explaining why his league did not "officially" discuss expansion at Tuesday's four-hour meeting here, said:

"What's the use? It would be foolish to come to a decision to expand and then find out the National League once again is against it."

"At one time we thought we could go it alone. But after giving it a great deal of thought, and exploring all kinds of possibilities, we realized it would be unwieldy, unfeasible and unwise to do it."

"One league simply cannot expand without the other."

He added:

"We in our league are anxiously awaiting the outcome of the National League meeting in Chicago next Monday. I personally have reason to believe they (the National League) are less opposed to it than they were a year ago. As a matter of fact, have reason to believe that Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and San Francisco, the three cities strongly opposed to expansion, may have had a change of heart."

Johnson Leading Paris Tourney

PARIS (AP)—Bill Johnston of Provo, Utah, surprise leader in the French Open golf championship, lives what he considers the ideal existence for a golf professional—bound to neither the tour nor a club.

"When I get restless around the club, I go into the tour, with the permission of my club members," he said today. "Then, when I get tired of the tour I go back to the club. You can't beat that."

Johnston is pro at the Timpanogos Golf Club in Provo, Utah. After playing in the century British Open at St. Andrews, where he finished respectably at 291, he came to Paris and proceeded to take over honors for the first two rounds.

The final 36 holes are scheduled today, and, despite the close packing of the field, there is a strong feeling the 36-year-old American pro may go all the way.

He shot rounds of 66 and 70 Tuesday over the par 72 St. Cloud course for a total of 136, which put him one shot ahead of long-hitting Leopoldo Ruiz of Argentina, who had 67-70.

Fights Last Night

New York (Madison Square Garden)—Benny (Kid) Paret, 152½, Cuba, knocked out Garnet (Sugar) Hart, 153½, Philadelphia, 6, (non-title).

Crantz was the winner with left from Stahl and Roger Vogt.

Schenectady Girl Is Medalist In State Women's Golf Play

GLENS FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—The medalist in the State Women's Golf Tournament faces hometown opposition in first-round match play today and the defending champion takes on her opponent in last year's championship match.

Mrs. Torgerson, with a 78, finished third Tuesday. Mrs. Berger shot an 80 for a fifth-place tie with Mrs. George Trainor of Rochester, a veteran competitor.

Lindsay Retires After 16 Seasons

DETROIT (AP)—Ted Lindsay is a guy who not only wants to be remembered as a fellow who gave his all but also gave enough. Lindsay apparently realized Tuesday that he no longer could give enough and retired from the National Hockey League after 16 seasons—13 with the Detroit Red Wings, and the last three with the Chicago Black Hawks.

The fiery star must have felt a premonition of his coming retirement last season when he confided: "Either I'm slowing up or these players are getting faster." Lindsay, who will be 35 before the month is out, was one of the game's fiercest competitors.

Tigers Wallop Indian Nine, 9-1

Breaking open a squeaker with six runs in the fifth inning, the Canfield Tigers walloped the Shults Paint Indians, 9-1, in a National Little League game yesterday.

Jim Schmidt was the winning pitcher. He allowed two hits, walked a pair and whiffed 11. Warren Kelder and John Thompson led the attack with doubles.

The line score:

	R	H
Indians	000	010-1
Tigers	120	06x-9

Steve Bates and Steve Sherlock; Jim Schmidt and Bill Kilquist.

Saugerties LL Selects Stars

All-star players from the Lions Club Little League of Saugerties have been selected for tournament competition.

Players are Stephen Bonack, Kenneth Wood and Andrew Wood, Giants; Randy Bennett, Robert Speirs and Richard Greco, Dodgers; Victor Sacks, Bruce Prosser and Robert Whitney, Yankees; Edward Hurley, Robert Quick and William Brown, Braves; Grant Crum, Phillies and William Robinson, Tigers.

Alternates are Timothy Murphy, Yankees, and Fred Ector, Braves.

Leonard Gilmore of the Dodgers is the manager and coach is George Wood of the Giants.

Dodgers Defeat Brave Nine, 12-1

Van's Auto Dodgers scored almost as well as they trampled Muffler's Braves, 12-1, in a Town of Ulster Little League game yesterday.

While Jeff Perry was limiting the losers to four hits, the Dodgers clubbed 14 off loser Gary Norman. John Cook and John Eccleston doubled and Eccleston climaxed a perfect day with a pair of home runs. He and Cook also scored three times.

The line score:

	R	H
Dodgers	015	330-12
Braves	001	000-1

Jeff Perry, John Cook and Rich Nesland; Gary Norman and Ed Schatzel.

Hurley Dodgers Rap Red Sox, 7-5

The Dodgers came from behind with a five run surge in the third inning to stop the Red Sox, 7-5, in a Town of Hurley Little League tilt last night.

Charles Moore and Rodney Goins stroked doubles while Phil Rober had a double and triple. Robert Stahl and Vince Crantz had two batters for the winners.

Exact quote from a guy who joined Kansas City after being with a winner the last couple of years: "This club is dead. These guys are so used to losing that they don't care any more."

Put this one away in your pocket: Bob Scheffing (now coaching Milwaukee) to manage the slumping San Francisco Giants if Horace Stoneham decides to dispense with Tom Sheehan suddenly . . . for the winter book, put Joe Gordon ahead of Leo Durocher. . . .

How about that Chicago Cubs' executive who eight years ago said to a kid who'd come from North Dakota for a trial, "Son, forget about baseball. You'll never make it. You're too small." . . . The "small" kid with the blacksmith arms is Roger Maris . . . who in Fargo, N. D., had been a tremendous high school halfback.

From the same area as Rajah, who could lead the Yanks back to a title, came Steve Myrha, whose crucial field goal led to the first championship for the Baltimore Colts in 1958. . . . They were prep rivals. . . .

It has to be called "sweet swings for suite strings" when Jack Fleck, Jay Hebert and Dave Hill tee off on the Longmeadow Country Club course in Massachusetts on Aug. 2 . . . they play an exhibition for the benefit of the Springfield Symphony Orchestra. . . . The Rev. Bob Richards, who is more than 30, is in such good shape he vows he could go out on the street and do 15 feet "if I had Oscar with me." . . . Oscar's his pet pole. . . . Bob needed to be in good shape for his sprints from the Stanford press box to the field for Olympic Trials interviews. . . .

That's no gag about pole vaulter Don Bragg wanting to make like Tarzan . . . after the Trials, he sneaked to Hollywood to talk with the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer brass about his post-Olympic chances to dangle from jungle vines. . . .

Young Joe DiMaggio Jr., a bright student at Lawrenceville Academy, has been accepted for Yale in the fall . . . where he'll play center on the freshman team and specialize in field goals. . . .

Marty Stein, the Philadelphia cartoon manufacturer who handles Sugar Hart (box to boxing), won't give his own welterweight a job in the plant. . . . "It costs me less to keep him doing nothing," says Stein, "because it's too expensive to train a man for an intricate job . . . and then have to give him three weeks off so he can get ready for a fight." . . . So Sugar, who fancies himself a hair stylist, is opening a beauty salon with his wife. . . .

Benny Kid Paret, the welterweight champion, isn't worried about keeping himself occupied outside the ring . . . he spends half the day playing dominoes, the other half trying to learn English listening to television. . . .

The Dodge brass is not nearly as enamored of Frank Howard's Ruthian prowess as the Los Angeles fans who've been sucked in by the ballyhoo surrounding the Buckeye Brawnboy. . . . "Still bad ball hitting," reads the inside verdict, "hasn't learned the strike zone . . . has a stubborn streak . . . sometimes rejects instruction . . . isn't too adaptable to changing situations."

Vic Power is much less worried about not being voted to the All-Star starting team (the balloting was strictly a popularity contest) . . . than he is about the hair on top of his head that keeps getting thinner and thinner. . . .

The boxing slate for Floyd Patterson in Sweden calls for 10 exhibition bouts . . . with the trip prolonged on the continent if the response is okay. . . . If you don't believe Cus D'Amato is back in the saddle, wait'll they get around to discussing the Patterson-Ingemar Johansson rematch site. . . . Floyd's skipper doesn't believe Los Angeles is more than a $600,000 town . . . the latest report has Philadelphia as the leading contender. . . .

Between you'n' me, if Sonny Liston gets by Zora Folley, look for the ham-handed (bigger than Joe Louis) heavyweight to apply for a New York managerial license . . . so he can get to box in the big city. . . .

Distance Doubtful

PALO ALTO, Calif.—(NEA)—Franz Stampf, Austrian-born coach of five Australian Olympic squad members, was asked to sum up the United States team after watching the Trial in Palo Alto.

"Neither Jim Beatty (5,000 meters) nor Dyrrol Burleson (1,500 meters) looked particularly good, but neither had much competition," he said. "I doubt that Burleson will do much in Rome. He impresses me as being on the frail side."

"I was greatly impressed with your hop, step and jumpers, especially Ira Davis. I think he can do 54 feet and come close to winning."

"Your squad has tremendous depths, as always. It is better than the team you sent to Melbourne. Enough better to keep

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Robert John Duliha, St. Louis Cardinals pitcher, was injured seriously Tuesday night in a highway accident that killed three persons. Four were injured.

Killed were Mrs. Robert Haukap, 24, Columbia; her son, Timothy, 9 months, and Anna Marie Wilga, 9 months, daughter of Mrs. Sophie Wilga, St. Ann, Mo.

Duliha, 25, of Glen Lyon, Pa., and his wife were driving to the wedding of teammate Ray Sadecki, who was to be married today in Kansas City, Kan. Duliha suffered head injuries and possible internal injuries. He was in dangerous condition. His wife was in good condition.

PEEKABOO COX—Spectators at the Olympic Games Trials on Onondaga Lake, hard by Syracuse, saw something new in American rowing—a pair with the coxswain flat on his back in the bow of the shell. Kent Mitchell of Seattle's Lake Washington Rowing Club, demonstrates the new look to the amusement of Dick Draeger, stern, and Conn Findlay.

Rosburg Hoping To Bounce Back In Western Open

DETROIT (AP)—Injuries, illness and inactivity have made pudgy Bob Rosburg almost an unknown, relatively speaking, on the 1960 professional golf tour.

The defending PGA champion has had a hand injury, a stomach disorder and a run of so-so golf—and has made only $8,000 on the tour this year. His best showing was a tie for third place in the New Orleans Open and a tie for fourth in the Memphis event.

Rosburg won the PGA tournament last year at Minneapolis and will defend his crown next week at Akron, Ohio. His 1959 earnings exceeded $30,000.

Rosburg is in Detroit for the Western Open, and it might not be a bad bet to wager that he'll be a stronger contender.

Rosburg did not have to qualify for the Western, which begins Thursday and runs through Sunday with $5,000 top prize money in the $25,000 kitty.

But 125 others had to battle it out Tuesday for 60 places over Western's 6,800-yard course with its 36-36-72 par. Including ties, 72 qualified and the starting field will be 162.

Quick Case

CINCINNATI, (NEA)—Who is the fastest man in baseball?

Vada Pinson, Cincinnati outfielder, is called the swiftest of the lot, but teammate Billy Martin says, "He wouldn't have outrun Mickey Mantle before he got hurt."

In answer to all, Reggie Otero, the Reds' coach, claims George Case would have passed the bunch.

"Case used to steal second base standing up," Otero recalled. "Many times he would run right by it because he couldn't slow up. He didn't know how to slide. He went to Washington as a pitcher and was used in relief."

"They let him hit because they were losing, 7-0, and he beat out a routine grounder to the shortstop who didn't even have his arm raised to throw before Case was on first base."

Knows Ropes

EAST LANSING, Mich.—(NEA)—Michigan State's assistant wrestling coach, Grady Peninger, is a former National Amateur Athletic Union champion.

Marichal Joins Fading Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An early harvest from the farm system, pitcher Juan Marichal, joins San Francisco Friday in a move to strengthen the skidding Giants.

The move marks the first player change for Tom Sheehan since he took over as manager June 18. He can only hope the Pacific Coast League knockout king brings the electrifying change the addition of Willie McCovey did a year ago.

McCovey broke into the Giants lineup July 30 and blasted two triples and two singles. After seven games he had 14 hits in 30 times at bat and finished with .354 in 52 games.

With this year's Giants, including McCovey, in a big slump and tied for fourth place, the call went out for Marichal.

Juan, 21, has had only two full seasons in the minors. In 1958, he won 21 and lost 8 for Michigan City of the class D Midwest League. He also won two playoff games.

Last year, the youngster was 18-13 with the pennant-winning Springfield team in the class A Eastern League. Again he pitched two playoff victories. He also led the league with a .239 earned-run average.

Off to a blazing start with Tacoma this year, he compiled a 5-0 record through May 10. Since then he has won six while losing five for an overall 11-5 mark and a 3.11 ERA.

Bills to Scrimmage At Practice Session

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The Buffalo Bills of the American Football League were slated for scrimmage sessions in their third day of drills today.

Head Coach Buster Ramsey said he had hoped to have the 70 remaining candidates don pads and get down to heavy work. Tuesday Richie Lucas, second team All-America quarterback at Penn State last fall, showed form as a runner and pass receiver as the Bills went through offensive pass patterns.

Earlier he and quarterbacks, Tommy O'Connell and Bob Brodhead limbered their passing arms in a short pass defense drill.

Turned Agent

New York, (NEA)—J. D. Black, who won the 1924 Kentucky Derby on Black Gold, is now a jockey's agent.

Sassafras was a medical expert from Maine as early as 1602. It was then believed to be a remedy for almost all body ailments.

Debate, CR Fight
Liven Convention

By SAUL PETT
LOS ANGELES (AP) — For awhile it looked like the Democrats were going to give us a coast-to-coast tranquilizer.

But Tuesday they began to act like Democrats. They began to fight.

The day started with a debate between candidates Lyndon B. Johnson and John F. Kennedy. They met in something less than mortal combat. The day ended at convention hall with Democratic delegates fighting over civil rights. It was almost like old times.

Heart-Warming Meeting
Johnson, the gray fox of Texas, invited Kennedy to debate the issues.

It proved to be a heart-warming meeting. There they were.

Johnson and Kennedy, telling each other what great friends they were, two old Senate buddies, full of mutual admiration.

It was so moving you almost couldn't see them needle each other. But they did.

Kennedy wondered out loud about candidates who don't enter primaries, which Johnson didn't.

Johnson innocently remarked on the importance of a good Senate attendance record, which Kennedy hasn't had lately.

Meanwhile, back in the convention hall, the second session moved along with all the alacrity of a dying elephant. Speakers got the same rapt attention Americans usually reserve for TV commercials.

The delegates milled in the aisles. They clustered around TV men clustering around somebody on camera. They took pictures of each other posing with Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and other celebrities to impress the folks back home. They ogled Frank Sinatra and Peter Lawford, who wandered around wearing buttons which said, "Beat Khrushchev."

Temporary Chairman Frank Church, the boy senator from Idaho, begged the delegates to clear the aisles. They didn't. He got mad and threatened to call the cops. But the aisles remained clogged as if it were dollar-day at Tiffany's.

Rough Time for Collins
But it was Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida, the permanent chairman, who had the roughest time holding or finding his audience. He stopped himself, pounded the gavel, and begged the delegates to alight somewhere.

Then he was unstaged by Eleanor Roosevelt. Her entrance brought a big roar while delegates turned their backs on Collins.

Mercifully, the governor was allowed to finish before Adlai E. Stevenson entered and received a huge, 20-minute ovation.

Adlai got off the best crack of the convention so far. After getting in and out of the crowd at the convention headquarters, he said, "I know who will be nominated—it will be the last survivor."

City Will Honor Two
Who Rescued Girl, 17

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP) —The city of Niagara Falls next month will honor two New Jersey men who pulled a 17-year-old girl from the edge of the Horseshoe Falls.

John R. Hayes of Vauxhall and John Quattrochi of Penns Grove will be guests of honor for a week's expense-paid visit to the city. Both have been recommended for the Carnegie Medal for heroism.

The two snatched Deanne Woodward of Niagara Falls from the lip of the huge cataract last Saturday after she was tossed into the water in a boating accident in the upper Niagara River.

Her brother, Rodger, 7, was carried over the Falls, but survived the 161-foot drop and was rescued by a sight-seeing boat. The city also planned to honor the crew of the Maid of the Mist, the touring boat, turned rescue craft.

James Honeycutt, 40, in whose boat the youngsters were enjoying a ride, was missing and presumed drowned.

Newburgh Mayor, 81 Others From State in London

LONDON (AP)—A group of 82 municipal officers, their wives and families from New York State arrived by plane today to begin a 30-day tour of Europe.

The tour was organized by the New York State Conference of Mayors. There are 11 mayors in the group.

Mayor J. Forrest Cain of East Aurora, told reporters: "This has taken us something like two years to plan and organize. It is the first visit to Europe of the New York State Conference of Mayors and is a direct result of President Eisenhower's call for people-to-people exchanges."

There are 64 cities and 548 villages in New York State and practically every one of those places wanted to send someone. It had to be a case of first come first served.

Village attorney Edgar Coapman of Rockport, brought his wife, Charlotte, and three children—Edgar Jr., 8, Christine, 6, and Rebecca, 5. This was the largest family party in the group.

Mayor William Ryan of Newburgh left the rest of the party at London airport to fly on to Scotland. He said he was paying an official call on "our sister town of Newburgh in Scotland."

The lord mayor of London, Sir Edmund Stockdale, arranged a reception for the Americans later today at county hall.

After a week in Britain the group will go to Brussels and Paris for similar visits.

In Florence the Americans will dedicate a new U. S. war memorial.

Ike Turns Down Congo's Bid for Force of 3,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is reported willing to provide technicians and financial support—but no troops—for any United Nations force sent to put down the mutiny in the African Congo.

Top officials outlined the administration's attitude in the wake of a White House declaration that countries other than the United States should provide the forces. The Congo government has requested to restore order.

President Eisenhower, at his vacation headquarters in Newport, R.I. late Tuesday turned down the Congo's appeal for 3,000 American troops. Eisenhower said via a White House spokesman that "it would be better for the Congo" if no troops were sent from "any of the large Western nations" on such an emergency mission.

Authoritative officials sought to make clear today that the United States did not propose to stand aloof entirely from any U.N. action which might be decided upon.

American planes and ships might be used to rush a U.N. force to the trouble spots, authorities said. Furthermore, civilian technicians as well as funds could be allocated to meet other requirements, they added.

Soviet propaganda, it was felt, would be swift to denounce any American troop units as blatant interference in the efforts of a newly independent nation to throw off the colonialist yoke.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Abby, the season's first, is expected to carry gale force winds and heavy rainfall to Jamaica today as the tropical storm's northern fringes begin to touch the island.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said Jamaican interests should remain on the alert, as well as interests in the Caymans, northeast Nicaragua and along the north coast of Honduras and the east coast of the Yucatan Peninsula.

Abby changed course a bit to the north during the night and has gained slightly in intensity. Highest winds, however, were still about 85 miles per hour near the storm's center.
